Handling of Complaints Against FLE Teacher Rapped

In an unusual move before a meeting of the board of trustees, the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association Professional Relations Committee last week entered a public protest over the Jefferson Elementary School District's handling of complaints against a teacher of family life education.

Airing a controversy which arose several weeks ago over a sex education "guidance course" teacher's methods at Benjamin Franklin School in Daly City, Professional Relations Committee Chairman Marilyn Harris called upon the board to establish a new "controversial issue policy."

She also stated the committee feels Supt. Frank Greenwood has failed to follow the provisions of the existing staff handbook pertaining to such matters, and has "acted without sufficient cause."

According to Miss Harris' report, the persons involved in the controversy have not appeared before the board, and no written complaint has been filed against the teacher.

According to the teacher leader, a district policy adopted in 1961 provides that "a complaint or criticism by a patron shall be presented as a written, signed statement to the superintendent or the individual shall be invited to appear before the board and the matter made part of the agenda.

"It was reported to the committee that a number of verbal complaints were made to board members and the superintendent, and that these complaints were not directed to the teacher," she said.

"It was also reported that many of the complaints herein discussed came from a highly vocal and organized minority of Benjamin Franklin parents," Miss Harris said, "And there has been no attempt to assess the general feeling of the community regarding this guidance course."

According to the teacher committee members, Greenwood presented a list of 30 questions to the guidance teacher after receiving verbal complaints about his classroom methods.

"The committee received the questionnaire, and noted that the document contained 30 specific questions, most of which were accusatory in nature, but with no accompanying documentation indicating the origin of the implied allegations."

Presentation of the questionnaire was "either poor professional judgment upon the part of the superintendent, or a deliberate attempt to inculpate the teacher," the report concluded.

"It was reported to the committee that the administrtion was requested by the teacher to initiate parent meetings in order to explain the nature and content of the guidance course. The administration did not schedule such meetings."

"The purpose of the course, 'to provide insights for youngsters, necessitates an atmosphere of frank discussions. Such discussions, at the junior high level, will lead to the use of language that, without consideration of the context in which it is used, may be considered objectionable, and to the introduction of controversial issues, values and points of view.

"It is the judgment of this committtee that the course cannot be taught successfully without . . . authority to explore and discuss freely.

"The committee concludes that there is a lack of sufficient guidelines or policy for the teaching of controversial issues. Without the protection of district guidelines and policies for the teaching of controversial issues, it would be impossible for teachers to safely become involved in teaching controversial issues or to accept positions in pilot programs."

According to Miss Harris, the only specific policy pertaining to the so-called "controversial issues" the committee is aware of is contained in a memorandum from the superintendent in 1968.

This memorandum to the staff deals with the use of "objectionable language and four-letter words," according to the teacher representative.

The memorandum instructs teachers to give honest answers when students pose questions about the words, but points out that they have the responsibility of pointing out the words are "unacceptable in our culture, and that, once they have been explained in answer to a direct question, their continual use in the classroom or in school is totally unacceptable."

"The committee could find no district guidelines other than the superintendents 'memoran-

Mothers Brand DC House A Hazard, Board It Up

Members Of Wilson P-TA Take Action

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Woodrow Wilson Elementary School P-TA members waited more than a year for the owner of a burned out home at 123 Vista Grande Avenue in Daly City to either repair the building or board it up.

As the months passed without any action parents (and a few teachers) decided to issue an ultimatum to owner, Steven Pfeifer, giving him until noon of June 6 to take action.

Mrs. Anthony Guillory, president of the Woodrow Wilson P-TA, informed Pfeifer via letter that the structure was a danger to the safety of those children attending the school and also for those who used bus services in the neighborhood, inasmuch as the buses stopped near the charred ruins.

"You (Pfeifer) have shown no interest as to the dangers of this house by allowing it to remain in such a state for well over 15 months," Mrs. Guillory said in her letter.

Last month the Daly City Council declared the home a "nuisance" and ordered its abatement — or else.

The "volunteer vigilantes" took matters into their own hands after the noon deadline passed without any action on the part of Pfiefer.

With hammer, boards and nails some 12 women and three men converged on the home and boarded up windows, doors and the garage.

They next hung a sign on the front door which read: "Compliments of the Woodrow Wilson P-TA."

TAKING MATTERS INTO OWN HANDS—Parents of the Woodrow Wilson P-TA got tired of waiting of this homeowner to either repair or board up his charred home on Vista Grande Avenue. After issuing an ultimatum to owner Steven Pfeifer, the women, equipped with boards, hammers and nails, took the matter into their hands. Here's result of an hour's work.

Views Differ On Business Fee Changes At Pacifica

By DON GRIERSON

A proposed revision of the Pacifica business license ordinance, which would substitute a "gross receipts" city assessment for a flat rate fee has split the Chamber of Commerce and brought hints of interference "with the confidential nature of business."

Directors of the Chamber split with the city's administrative staff and Monday declined to offer to meet with Pacifica council members to discuss the matter further.

In a letter to City Manager C. W. Masonheimer, Chamber of Commerce President William Hammer reported the chamber directors have voted the chamdirectors have voted "to concur with a stand made by the Business License Committee of the Chamber of Commerce which requests the City of Pacifica to defer action on any proposed business license ordinance this year in order to allow time for further study."

Mayor Nick Gust called upon chamber officials to meet with the council next week to "attempt to iron out differences," but Hammer indicated such a meeting would be to no purpose "since we have firmly taken our stand."

City Finance Director John Grindrod has proposed a new ordinance calling for business license fee assessments on the basis of "gross annual receipts"

DEBBIE BERNAL has been selected and coronated queen of the July 4 Broadmoor parade. One of eight contestants judged last week, Miss Bernal is shown in her royal attire after receiving tiara from 1968 queen, Linda Tucker. Runnersup in contest were Jan Haymaker, Dandy Keller and Susan Rudnik.

Conservation Is Offered As Alternate

By WILL E. THOMAS

In a move that appeared acceptible to most members of a vitally interested community, trustees of the San Bruno Park School District Monday night approved a two-part, optional program that will provide a course in basic "conservation" for intermediate-age youngsters whose parents object to their participation in four-segmented Family Life Education.

The decision, awaited for some time over recent months as trustees waded through the weighed the pros and cons, came as nearly 170 persons sat in the Decima Allen Auditorium.

With 29 persons permitted to speak, 20 of them expressed favor for the FLE offerings. The remaining noted their opposition, primarily on the grounds they wanted an optional program, believing also their children were not old enough to understand the FLE teachings and that teachers, themselves, were unqualified to teach something as technical as sex education.

They thought the home was the proper place for such information to be dispensed, though the Rev. John Powell attempted to counter the assertion with his statement that if the families are doing such a fine job with their youngsters, the knowledge they would receive at school would not disturb them.

Assistant Supt. F. H. (Ted) Jackson, has explained however, that sex education in the Family Life Education structure adopted by the district comprises "only one part of one-fourth" of the program.

That is, he said, sex would be just a part of the over-all biological phase of FLE, with self-understanding, social and cultural and financial aspects other areas of instruction.

Unhappiness Is Enforcement Of Coast Parking Rules

Campers and boating enthusiasts in Pacifica are as disturbed as a woodsman in a hornet's next over the city's enforcement of an ordinance prohibiting the parking of campers, trailers and boats in front of homes.

A group headed by Ed Griffin, 783 Linda Mar Boulevard, appeared at last night's council meeting to protest a section of a city ordinance adopted last year prohbiting parking of the sporting equipment in front and side yards.

The ordinance allows campers and other such equipment to be parked in rear yards only, and then only when "adequately screened from view."

Five of the citys' outdoorsmen received citations recently in a "crackdown" on illegal parking of campers.

Mayor Nick Gust and members of the council Monday asked the city's chamber of commerce to investigate the feasibility of encouraging someone to begin a "camper parking" business in Pacifica.

However, Griffin and other camping enthusiasts said a survey conducted by their group indicates at least two acres of land would be needed to store the estimated 50 campers in the city, and "it would not be economically feasible with our tax rates."

George Edsell, who has performed a study into the matter at the request of the outdoorsmen, said he has learned it would be "uneconomical to open a camper and trailer parking lot anywhere within 20 miles of San Francisco."

The campers are holding a meeting tonight for the purpose of forming an association. The group will then make recommendations to the council in an attempt to find an "equitable solution" to their problem.

Spend Little, But Earn Lot: Lycett

Spend a little and earn a lot, was the thinking of the Daly City council Monday night.

After being informed by assistant city manager David Rowe that if the city could receive about $2,300, the council okayed the move.

New population of Daly City, reached since the last census was taken, is 65,700—an increase of 467—Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said.

Dirt-Hauling Bid Rejected In San Bruno

Maintaining its recent record against allowing use of municipal streets as routes for dirt-haul trucks, the San Bruno City Council Monday rejected such a request form the San Bruno Park Elementary School District.

Spokesmen said the school district had an opportunity to have land it owns levelled and the earth removed at a cost that would be the same as that charged for a similar dirt-haul project on adjacent property.

The Piombo Company, which has failed to gain permission to use city streets in the past, would have handled the hauling for the school district, according to Supt. George Lawry, of some 43,000 yards of dirt—a month-long project.

District officials sought a route leading from the Carl Sandburg School down Sneath Lane, to Tanforan, to Huntington, and to the airport, via San Bruno Avenue.

The educators explained that the expense of moving its earth later "would be four to 12 times" greater than if the school job were combined with Piombo's present project.

There was objection to the dirt-haul proposal from two planning commission members

D.C. Council in Support Of Summer Job Drive

The Daly City Council Monday night unanimously endorsed the action of Rev. Howard A. Bryant, executive director of the local Information and Referral Center, in his efforts to secure summer jobs for needy youth in the area.

On a motion made by Councilman Edward J. Dennis, the council went on record as supporting Bryants' latest attempts to get more summer jobs for low-income youths whose families are in low income brackets.

Bryant told the council that he is currently sending hundreds of letters to local citizens and businesses asking them to donate $5.60.

This amount would allow a youth to work for four hours at $1.40 per hour.

Bryant said if enough donations are received, each youth could make about $28 per week.

Hopefully, these youth would be placed into work slots created by the City of Daly City (similar to last year's program.)

At this time last year the Center had secured some 100 jobs in vrious businesses within the city. To date, only 25 jobs have been pledged, prompting Bryant to turn elsewhere for assistance.

He informed the council that last year the county set aside $100,000 for this program. This year the figure dropped to $80,000 — with Daly Citys' share dropping from more than $9,000 to $5,640 this year.

Daly City IRC Seeks $5,000

A request for funding some $5,000 submitted last month by the Daly City Information and Referral Center, was turned over to the City Manager's office Monday for inclusion in the upcoming budget.

Reverend Howard A. Bryant, executive director of the center, said the funds would be used "in and for the city. . ."

The "funding period," is from April 1, 1969 to March, 31, 1970, Bruant said.

Each city where an information center is located has been asked to assist in funding of the centers, Bryant explained.

City Asks Name Not Be Used

Pacifica councilmen Monday instructed City Attorney John Sherman to order a South San Francisco taxi operator to remove the name 'Pacifica' from his car."

Mayor Nick Gust and other council members object to Milton W. Henke's using the city's name "when he does not live in the city, and does not have a license to operate in the city."

Henke, owner of the "Pacifica Cab Company," applied for a taxi permit in the city, but the permit was denied several weeks ago.

His attorney is appealing the denial, and councilman are expected to take up the matter at their next regular meeting.

Meanwhile, Henke has been operating "in the area of San Francisco International Airport" with a taxi marked "Pacifica Cab Company," according to Sherman.

Latin, Black Differences Seem Settled

The rift that has split the Spanish-American and Black communities in Daly City for the past three weeks was patched up Wednesday after members of the Neighborhood Council voted to divide funds between two programs, instead of funding only one of the proposed programs.

The controversy had centered around which program would be funded with the $8,000 okayed by the county offices of the Economic Opportunity Commission.

Both programs were hailed by Council chairman Albert Jenkins as excellent and "desperately needed in the community."

One program is aimed at providing summer jobs for needy youth throughout the city, while the other is directed at improving the English of Spanish-speaking children from age six to 12 using some 22 high school and college students as tutors. The latter program would also include a Latin Heritage class.

Both programs would require more than $25,000 to be fully funded. The EOC set aside $8,000 after agreeing that both projects were needed in Daly City.

After several persons in the audience and on the council pleaded for unity in deciding the issue, Jenkins said:

"The last thing I wanted here tonight was an interracial war. The enemy of all poor people — regardless of their color — is the rich man who doesn't want to share (his wealth).

"If that sounds mildly revolutionary, so be it."

EOC commissioner Antonio Montoya backed Mrs. Monares' program, and informed the people similar programs had been held during the past three years

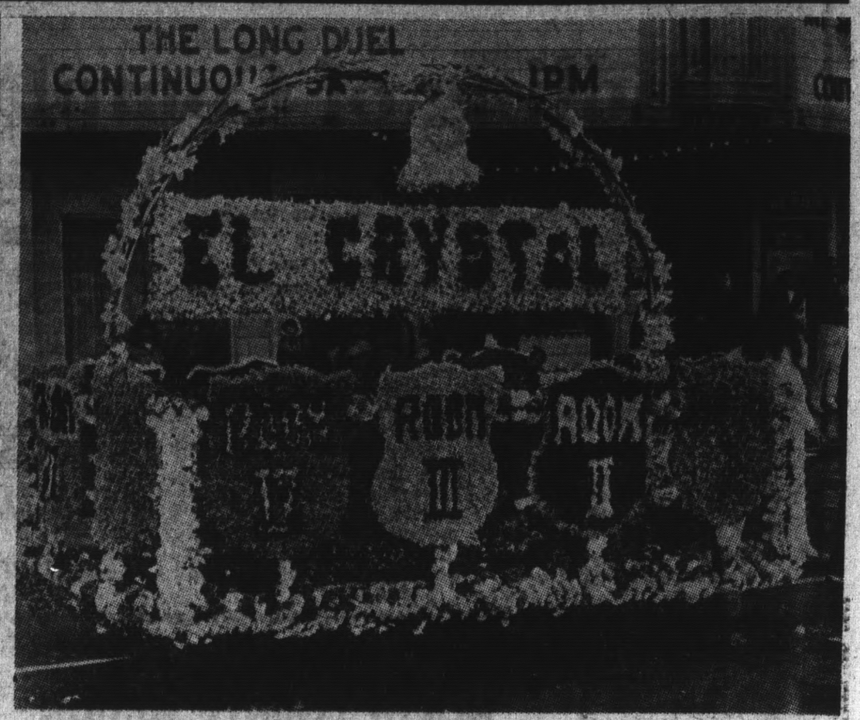
IT WAS a drizzly day, one that could have been completely dreary had it not been for the enthusiastic, if not hardy youngsters participating in Sunday's 28th annual Posy Parade in San Bruno. And jesters like the one entertaining above put warmth in the parade, sponsored by the Optimist Club. (Post Photos by Frankhouse)

HUNDREDS of youngsters marched and another thousand or better watched the parade, which featured floats, bikes, wagons — and this tot in a baby carriage, who was all wet, yet a picture of contentment, despite the "kidnapping".



THIS IS ONE of the entries in the Posy Parade, resumed after a one-year "layover." Event was called off in 1968, because the Optimist Club did not have enough manpower. Nonetheless, the club looked forward to a "better than ever" parade and only the weatherman failed to cooperate as youngsters marched in the rain.

Baker Hit by Truck, Dies In San Bruno Crosswalk

A deaf mute in his sixties, wearing dark clothing, was struck down by a pickup truck and fatally injured as he crossed an unlighted portion of El Camino Real, in San Bruno, early Friday.

The pedestrian was identified by San Bruno police investigators as Martin Andrew Kanski, 65, 3815 E. Fourteenth Street, Oakland, a baker at the Oro-Wheat Baking Company, 264 Spruce Avenue, South San Francisco.

San Bruno police patrolman Frank Young said Kanski apparently was walking in a crosswalk at 1:14 a.m., in a dark sector near the San Bruno Naval Base when he was struck suddenly by a 1962 model half-ton pickup truck driven by 19-year-old Robert A. Studendorff of No. 3 English Court, Millbrae.

Kanski died at 2:36 a.m. of his injuries at Peninsula Hospital, where he was taken for treatment of a "multitude" of injuries, patrolmen Young said, including massive internal bleeding, a skull fracture, and compound fracture of the left leg.

The victim is believed to have been walking west across El Camino Real as the Studendorff vehicle proceeded northbound, toward him at a speed of about 35 miles an hour, Young explained.

Studendorff, who works as a pressman for the E. C. Clemons Horst Co., 413 Browning Way, South San Francisco, told authorities he did not see the pedestrian prior to the accident—he seemed to "come from nowhere," Young quoted Studendorff as explaining.

The driver said he had no time to stop prior to the impact, which flipped Kanski onto the hood of the pickup truck, where he was carried for some 70 feet before falling off to the east shoulder of El Camino, Young said.

The Studendorff pickup truck hit the pedestrian with its right front fender, Young pointed out, at a point some 460 feet north of Forest Lane, near the south end of the naval base.

Kanski was in a semi-conscious state as he was rushed to Peninsula Hospital for treatment. Police said they were unable to obtain any information from Kanski before he died, without regaining consciousness, some one hour and 22 minutes after the accident.

A South San Francisco driver, Frank James Hyatt, of 840 Larch, said he was behind the Studendorff vehicle by about some 25 yards when the pedestrian was hit, and confirmed the conditions and the driver's speed, police said.

N. County Music Pupils Set Trip

A number of North County high school musicians will travel to Australia this summer and perform in four major cities with the California Youth Symphony Orchestra.

Among the orchestra members are Gail McGovern, South San Francisco, and Bruce Burton and Jeff Berglund, of San Bruno.

South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucelli has issued a proclamation naming June 8-14 "California Youth Symphony Week" in the city, and called upon citizens to support and encourage the "young ambassadors" in this international cultural exchange.

The 102-member orchestra will begin a four-week tour of Australia June 24.

The tour is being sponsored by the Australian Broadcasting Commission and the Australian-American Association, and the Australian hosts will bear most of the expense.

However, transportation costs from the U.S. and other expenses totaling $90,000 must be borne by the orchestra.

Council Meet Declined

C of C Split On Pacifica Business Fee

to replace the present "flat rate" fee system.

Grindrod maintains the proposed revision would provide a "more equitable system of assessment," while raising more revenue for the city.

Mayor Gust and other council members noted when the ordinance revision was proposed two weeks ago that there has been no increase in the city's business license fees in more than ten years, and "an adjustment is overdue."

The chamber of commerce position letter maintains persons who have more than one business in the city would be required to set up their books to facilitate the gross receipts ordinance.

"The cost of setting up books to facilitate a gross receipts ordinance is impractical," the letter states.

"It was also felt that the enforcement clause in the gross receipts ordinance which allows the city finance director to audit and examine the books of any business would tend to put the city in the continual light of suspicion any time there was a confidential leak from whatever source."

"Keeping the confidential nature of a business' books is a necessary business practice," the letter says.

Hammer also said the proposed ordinance is unclear on "whether or not bars, insurance companies, insurance brokers, the telephone company, banks and newspapers" are exempt from the proposed business license fees, and "if so, why?"

"It stands to reason that if bars are exempt, then service stations, because of the gasoline tax, should be exempt, and also that cigaret vendors and other vending machines should also be exempt for the same reason."

"It was felt that in any workable ordinance, a maximum should be set as well as a minimum fee. The proposed gross receipts ordinance is in effect that of a sales tax," the chamber president said.

"It should be considered that any increase in business taxes will be passed on to the consumer through higher prices, so it would therefore stand to reason that any increase in general fund income should be reflected in the tax rate so that the consumer can see what he is paying in taxes.

"The Pacifica Chamber of Commerce does not object to equity, but it does object to substantially increased business taxes," the letter states.

"The City and business community are both interested in broadening the economic base of Pacifica. We should not forget that the reason businesses move into communities is because they can see where they can make a greater net profit. Increased business taxes are not conducive to economic development.

"Per capita spendable income in Pacifica is by far the lowest in San Mateo County, and since this is the only measurement we have in measuring the privilege of doing business in the City of Pacifica, it stands to reason that we cannot use other cities as a criteria for establishing a business license ordinance," the chamber letter concludes.

Black, Latin Differences

in both San Bruno and South San Francisco schools "with great success."

Mrs. Janette Ynastroza, slapped what she called the "white, middle class" residents of the city, including those teachers who have "hangups working with minority children."

"They (the teachers) seem to favor blue-eyed blonde haired youth . . ." she said.

The remarks were apparently prompted in support of the Spanish-speaking program.

Mrs. Gladys Bell, president of the Welfare Rights Group, suggested the $8,000 be put into a pot and used in such a manner that all needy children would be able to share, instead of splitting it up or giving it to a single group.

Postpone Water Merger

Action on a resolution to initiate proceedings toward a "merger" of the City of Pacifica and the North Coast County Water District was postponed at Monday's city council meeting because of the absence of Councilwoman Grace McCarthy.

The resolution, prepared at the request of Mayor Nick Gust, would present a proposal that the city "take over" the water system to the Local Agency Formation Commission, if adopted.

If LAFCO members approved the proposal, it would then be presented to the board of supervisors, and if board members approved, it would be submitted to a vote of the residents of the city and the water district.

Mayor Gust first proposed that the city "investigate the feasibility" of operating the water system more than a year ago.

The proposal has met with unanimous opposition from members of the North Coast County Water District Board of Directors, who maintain the district is "providing excellent service at the lowest possible rates" at present, and see no need for a change.

At least one member of the council, Harland Minshew, is also "unalterably opposed" to the city's "going into the water business."

Both the mayor and Councilman Minshew indicated Monday they intend to appear before a Public Utilities Commission hearing on water service in suburban cities June 17 at 2 p.m., and they will presumably present opposing arguments on the proposed merger at that time.

The council will take up the resolution again at the next regular meeting, according to Mayor Gust.

"We don't like to vote on matters of this type when all the council members are not present," the mayor said Monday.

dum which refer to the teaching of controversial issues."

Miss Harris's committee recommended that the district adopt a "parental complaint policy," along with the controversial issue policy, and that the district endeavor to inform parents of the purpose of the seventh grade guidance course prior to their children's enrollment in the program.

Her report stated that parents of only 12 of the 480 students taught by the guidance teacher in question have complained about his methods, and expressed the opinion that most of these complaints were due to "inadequate channels of communication."

Superintendent Greenwood advised trustees to accept the committee report "without comment" because of the "delicate nature" of the information involving personnel.

would be taught for about two weeks, Jackson pointed out, during the school year.

Following presentation of a petition said to contain 1400 names, the trustees adopted a recommended program from Dist. Supt. George Lawry that:

—Family Life Education continue in the K-5 schools as a pilot program, subject to condition it be instituted in a school upon the principal's recommendation shall be offered only in classes staffed by teachers prepared and qualified to teach FLE, as certified by the assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, that no more than half the number of classes at each grade level in a given school shall participate in the FLE program at any one time, and no pupil shall participate in the FLE program without his parents' approval, and pupils whose parents do not approve of their participating in the program shall be enrolled in classes in which FLE is not taught.

—That FLE be taught in the intermediate schools (grades six, seven and eight) as one of two possible electives each year, with the choice between the two electives made by each pupil's parents before he is programmed.

The alternative electives shall be scheduled as follows:

For the 1969-70 school year, parents shall choose between FLE and a course in Conservation.

For the school years 1970-71 and 1971-72, the curriculum department shall develop two additional units of equivalent value so that parents may have the choice of a different alternative to FLE each year.

After 1971-72, the alternative units (Conservation plus the two to be developed shall be repeated in a continuing three-year cycle — one each year thereafter — until further notice.

—Both FLE and an alternative shall be offered at all three grade levels each year, with course content and degree of difficulty appropriate to each level. Competition of FLE at one grade level shall not be prerequisite for enrolling in FLE at the next level.

The petitioners had called for a "separate, sign-up elective" for the FLE program, through the eighth grade, "thus respecting the wishes and rights of all parents."

Jackson, a San Bruno resident for 19 years, said he had received last week more phone calls than usual and most of them had dealt with the conservation course that has geen advanced earlier as the possible option to FLE. The callers were citing, for the most part, Jackson noted, their pleasure with selection of that particular course.

He said that "some of us . . . are very concerned" over filling of the bay, pollution of the bay, and indiscriminate highway development.

"It's a fact that where there used to be fruit trees as far as see," he said.

the eye can see, now there are houses as far as the eye can see,' he' said.

"We're concerned about our natural resources," Jackson declared; "we must alert the children of today to the need for conserving them, or in the next 60 or 75 years all will be depleted."

Driver's Feeble Cries Heard

A young Pacifica man, hampered by a full leg cast, struggled 100 feet up a cliff at Devil's Slide after his car crashed over a retaining rail early on Friday, and was rescued when an alert deputy sheriff heard his feeble cries for help.

Edward Dennis Mayer, 29, of 19 Alcala Court, ran into the embankment on the right side of Highway One about 2:30 a.m., California Highway Patrol Officer Robert Fjetland said, then veered across the roadway and over the cliff at the southerly end of Devil's Slide.

was sanctioned by the city, City Atty. Albert Polonsky replied, "What action?"

Informed of the boarding up of the home, the city attorney continued to plead ignorance of the incident.

But while the City Fathers quietly ignore the project, the Woodrow Wilson parents vow to continue their fight until something is done to correct the blight on their neighborhood.

Dirt-Hauling Bid Rejected In San Bruno

Victor Ogrey and Bill Cox, and citizen Mike Kaiser.

However, Councilman George Corey, who said he generally opposes dirt hauls through the community, favored the move in this instance.

While the opponents brought out their thinking that the project was not beneficial to the school district, that levelling of the land would create wind and erosion problems. Corey declared that the school districts' and the citys' taxpaying boundaries are nearly identical, and that to impose a "greater burden" on them would be "unfair."

Corey's motion of approval, contingent upon the dirt mover's hiring of a crossing guard provided by the police department during hauling hours—9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily—at the San Bruno-Huntington Avenues intersection, died for lack of a second.

However, Councilman George Ingham's motion that the dirt haul request be denied similarly did not receive a second—on the basis that negative action was not required in the light of a failure to secure an affirmative decision.

"I certainly hope that the city doesn't have need of school district cooperation in the immediate future," an angry Corey declared.

Three-Story Wood Bldgs. Questioned

San Bruno's Planning Commission Monday was directed by city council to review zoning ordinance provisions relating to construction of three-story, wood-frame structures, particularly in central business and multiple-residence areas.

The decision followed the council's approval at its first reading of provisions allowing the rezoning of property, in the area of San Bruno Avenue, Whitman Way and Junipero Serra Boulevard, paving the way for the multi-million dollar Shelter Creek development.

Councilman George Corey brought up the question of three-story, wood-frame construction, as against concrete and steel structures, expressing his preference for what he called longer-lasting, better looking concrete and steel buildings.

Shelter Creek and Indian Creek developments, both large, expensive projects, plan to use the wood-frame, three-story type of apartment construction, and, according to Corey, at least two other such developments are planned for the community.

He said Shelter Creek's plan is "very good," within the provisions of municipal zoning laws.

Corey urged changes in the zoning ordinance be made before other developesr' plans are submitted for city approval.

Screech of Car Startles Officer

Daly City police officer Don Cubic says he thought he spotted another "Halley's Comet" flashing down Alemany Boulevard Monday as he sat in his patrol car at the corner of Alemany and Sheffield.

On closer examination, Cubic learned the shower of sparks and loud screeching was coming from a car negotiating the busy road with a broken right front wreel.

Cubic pursued the car and finally brought it to a stop about a half mile from his first encounter with it.

The entire right side of the vehicle was smashed in, right wheel broken off and the underside dragging.

The car matched the description of a car that had earlier been involved in a hit and run accident in San Francisco.

Arrested was James H. Paton, 34, of 344 Susie Way, South San Francisco.

He was charged with resisting arrest, drunk driving, operating a vehicle without a current license and hit and run.

Firetruck Crashes Into Car; 3 Daly City Firemen Hurt

A Daly City fire truck rushing to the scene of a house fire collided with a car at a busy intersection Sunday shortly after 9 p.m.

Three firemen riding on the truck were injured.

The driver of the car escaped injury although his car was completely destroyed.

Rushed to Mary's Help Hospital for emergency treatment was fire truck driver Rich Merlo with an injured right shoulder; Capt. Barry Griffin with injuries of the right arm, and Don May who was thrown from the rear platform of the truck and sufferered serious head injuries and bruises.

Investigators said the heavy 1,250-gallon-per-minute fire pumper had left central fire station only seconds before with red lights flashing and sirens screaming and was passing through the Lake Merced-Alemany-South Mayfair intersection when a car, driven by a Mr. Henrix, collided with it.

The truck then swerved into an island, sweeping away the traffic pole and knocking the system out of order for several hours.

The crash also ruptured the truck's fuel tank and other fire crews were called out to wash the volotile liquid off the street.

Merlo has been a truck driver for the past 12 years, a department spokesman said, and is considered one of the department's best drivers.

Had Merlo applied his brakes on the slick roadway, investigators said the truck might have skidded sideways, and rolled over. Instead it appeared Merlo first tried to avoid the collision by cutting his wheels and slowly applying the brakes.

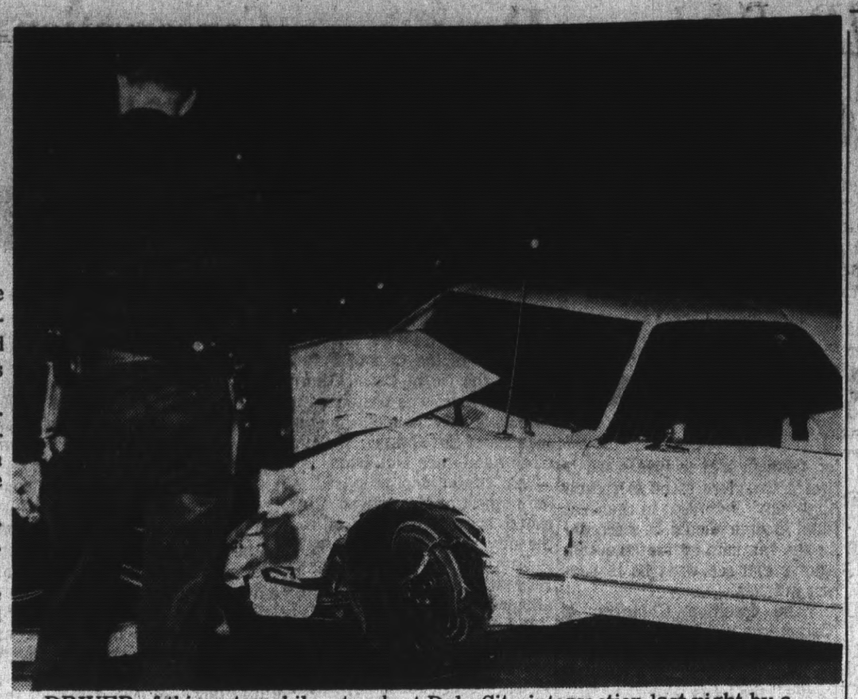
The vehicles collided and the truck hit the light standard island, shearing off the signal and dragging it some 100 yards down South Mayfair Avenue.

The fact that the car driver escaped his badly crushed car without injury was considered a "miracle" a policeman at the scene said.

The truck sustained minor damage to the right front section.

Cause of the fire was three small hot dogs left unattended in a frying pan at 5 Coronado Avenue. The home filled with smoke from the burning meat. Occupants of the building thought the house was on fire and called the fire department.

There was only minor smoke damage to the home, a fire spokesman said.



DRIVER of this automobile, struck at Daly City intersection last night by a firetruck, was unhurt. Car came to rest atop signal island, where light standard was sheered off by pumper.

Drug Trial: Stiff Sentences Given

Stiff prison sentences were meted out Thursday to Scot and Nancy Thornton of Pacifica, who were convicted by a jury last month of multiple narcotics counts.

Superior Court Judge Conrad B. Reisch sentenced Scott Thornton, 30, to consecutive terms in prison on two counts—possession of codeine and possession of methamphetamine for sale.

It means that Thornton will serve at least 28 months, and as much as 13 years, in prison. Sentencing on a third charge, possession of a stolen car, was made concurrent with the other counts.

Nancy Thornton, 24, was sentenced to concurrent terms on the narcotics counts, meaning that she could be released after serving two years.

Motions by their attorney, J. Tony Serra, for their release on bail while appeals are made were denied by Judge Reisch. Mrs. Thornton, however, was allowed to remain free on bail until 5 p. m. June 18 to take care of some personal affairs. Her husband remains in county jail, where he has been since his conviction on May 12, pending transfer to prison.

Thornton, who had five felony arrests in a period of seven months, protested his innocence throughout and told Probation Officer Ray Feber that he was a "victim of circumstances."

Mrs. Thornton blamed her "generous nature" for their troubles, explaining that she and her husband befriended people who were having problems with narcotics.

"Now I know I should have been more careful in choosing the people I tried to help," she told Probation Officer Lois Dorow.

Both defendants claimed that the large amount of dangerous drugs and narcotics manufacturing equipment seized when Pacifica police raided their home at 396 Heathcliff Drive, Pacifica, belonged to people they had befriended.

Faber said Thornton was believed to be a "kingpin" in the drug manufacturing underworld in the Bay Area. While on bail on the charges here, he was arrested in Oaklnd and in Dixon, Solano County, on narcotics manufacturing charges and is awaiting trial on those charges.

Daly City Dairy Holdup

The Sun Valley Dairy on Schwerin Street in Daly City was held up by a young man who simulated a gun in his suit-coat pocket shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday.

A witness to the holdup said the man put his right hand in his pocket as he walked up to the checkout register indicating he was armed, however, no gun was actually seen.

Budget Stretcher

Good morning, good cooks.

Are you interested in some new ways to serve ground beef? Did I hear a loud affirmative answer? Ground meat is a good budget stretcher and appears on most shopping lists regularly.

A Canadian cousin sent me this first recipe. It is surely simple to make and made a big hit with my family.

CANADIAN CASSEROLE

1 pound ground meat
1 onion, sliced thinly
1 can mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 can water
1 can chow mein noodles

Brown the one pound ground meat and theonion. Add the canned mushroom and tomato soup, plus one can of water. Simmer about 10 minutes. In a two-quart casserole pour a layer of meat, top with chow mein noodles, repeat, finishing with the noodles on top.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 40 minutes.

Along with this casserole I served sweet French bread and a salad of butter lettuce and sliced oranges with a dressing of oil and vinegar, with a teaspoon of sugar added to the dressing.

This next recipe is a bit more complicated, but the result of the extra mixing and fixing is a very tasty entree . . . and it uses just one pound of ground beef.

MEATBALLS SAUERBRATEN

1 pound ground meat
½ cup chopped onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
⅛ teaspoon each pepper and marjoram
1½ teablespoons butter

Combine the pound of meat with the one-half cu- chopped onion, one-eighth teaspoon each pepper and marjoram, egg and salt. Shape into 1½-inch balls.

Melt the one and one-half tablespoons butter in a skillet and brown the meatballs, turning them frequently to keep them round and to brown them evenly.

¼ cup vinegar
1½ cups water
1 bay leaf
6 peppercorns
2 tablespoons tomato paste
3 tablespoons brown sugar
8 gingersnaps, crushed, makes about 8 tablespoons crumbs
½ cup sour cream

Combine the one-fourth cup vinegar with the one and one-half cups water, add the bay leaf, eight cloves, six peppencorsn, two tablespoons tomato paste, the three tablespoons brown sugar and the eight gingersnaps, crushed. Pour over the meatballs and simmer for about one-half hour. Remove meatballs to serving platter. Stir the one-half cup sour cream into the sauce and pour over the meatballs.

Serve with cooked noodles springled with caraway seed.

POPPIN' FRESH BARBECUPS

¾pound ground beef
½ cup barbecue sauce
1 tablespoon minced instant onion
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 can Tenderflake baking powder biscuits

In a large skillet brown the three-fourths pound ground beef and drain. Add the one-half cup barbecue sauce, one tablespoon minced instant onion and the two tablespoons brown sugar. Set aside.

Separate the biscuit dough into 12 biscuits. Place one biscuit in each of 12 ungreased muffin cups, pressing dough up sides to edge of cup. Spoon meat mixture into cups. Sprinkle each with cheese.

Bake in 400-degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes, or until golden brown.

TIPS: Three-fourths cup pasteurized processed cheese may be substituted for Cheddar cheese. Spoon one tablespoon on each meat-filled cup.

SURFER SQUARES

1 cup (6 oz.) package butterscotch pieces
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup margarine
1 egg
¾cup all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate bits
1 cup minature marshmallows
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

In a large saucepan, melt the cup butterscotch pieces, one-fourth cup each brown sugar and butter over medium heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add the egg and beat well.

Sift together the three-fourths cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Blend into the egg mixture. Stir in the package chocolate bits, one cup marshmallows, one-half cup walnuts and teaspoon vanilla.

Spread in greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool; cut into bars. Makes 24 bars.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

Writers of the best news, feature, editorial, and sports story in Tiger Twiss and the best creative writers in the literary magazine were announced at the Terra Nova Awards Assembly.

The summer Linda Mar riot with an attempt to understand it by putting all the fragments together, was the subject of the best news story "The Linda Mar Shopping Center Affair" by Alice Reichert, a junior.

Miss Reichert also won in the feature category with "The Lonely People", a story on teenage homosexuals with an attempt to take them out of the freak category. She is the first Terra Nova journalism student to win in two categories the same year.

Anne Dryden, a junior, won in the best editorial category with her "Law and Order on Our Sidewalks", a satiric plea for a Terra Nova Traffic Patrol to assist Terra Nova student-smokers across Terra Nova Boulevard.

Paul Baxter, also a junior, wrote the winning sports story "Where'd You Learn to Ref?" an investigation of the problems of athletic officials.

In the creative writing awards, senior Vicky Brydítzka was named Best Writer for her consistency of fine contributions to Sandscripts, the literary magazine.

Air pollution was the subjects of the Best Story, "Shadows", written by sophomore Pat Reed.

Rich Jasso, a senior, won the Best Poem award for his poem on the futility of War, "Today — Tomorrow — Right Now".

The Tiger Tales winners received trophies and the creative writers received gift certificates for the Checkered Frog Book Store.

Westmoor Girl Wins Award

Westmoor senior Kathy Blume, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blume of 171 Santa Paula Drive, Daly City, has been named the recipient of the 1969 Jefferson Union High Schohol District Teachers' Association Scholarship.

The $50 JUHSDTA grant is awarded each year to a graduating senior who expresses through a letter to the association need for a supplement to his college budget.

Kathy plans to attend the University of San Francisco, to major in computer science.

Exhibit Of Photographs At Library

Photographs of San Francisco, of Europe and of people in their various moods characterize the one man show of Bill Koska in the Daly City Public Library at 275 Southgate Ave.

Bill says he had "no idea about photography" until he retired as a superintendent for one of the West's largest bakeries. His interest was fostered by a desire to take pictures of his grandchildren. With this in mind he enrolled in the San Francisco Photography Center.

Since that time, Bill Koska has found a second career. His work has been shown in one man shows at the Photography Center in the Emporium in San Francisco and in the Daly City Public Library. His pictures of children and of animals have been parts of many photography shows in the San Francisco Bay region.

Many of his photographs have been published in Bay Area newspapers and in many periodicals including P.S.A., Playboy and Photography. Readers of Daly City papers — particularly The Post — will recognize his shots of Daly City scenes, among them the pictures of the Daly City Civic Center as it was erected.

In 1963 Joe Dee of the San Francisco Chronicle wrote of Bill Koska, "When a photographer combines humor with kids in one shot, he's automatically assured an appealing picture."

His work attracts attention wherever it is seen. He's been mentioned in "Popular Photography magazine; has had pictures published in PSA Journal."

Koska's pictures may be seen at the Westlake Branch of the Daly City Public Library from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

According to the "Dirty Palette" the course will begin on June 23 and last for six weeks. Sessions will be held on Mondays between 7 and 9:30 p.m. in the Westmoor High School in Westlake.

The course fee is $3 plus 50 cents per session for models.

For more information, call Mrs. Lucy Muir, 359-1089, after 11 a.m.

For those who have been producing paintings, sculpture, ceramics and jewelry, don't forget that June 15 is the deadline for entry into the Seventh Annual Sonoma Plaza Outdoor Art Show. Bob Southworth and Luther Spraker have the entry applications.

The guild's participation in the San Mateo County Fair's Art Exhibit and the Pacific Art Festival, to commerate the Portola Expedition, will be among the topics to be discussed at the executive board meeting on June 30 in Southworth's home. The planning session s scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

The members of the Fifty Plus Club are off for a two-day sojourn to Clear Lake on Saturday, June 21.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president, the bus will leave at 7:30 a.m. and take the tour members to Napa for a visit to the Christian Brothers winery and for luncheon.

Saturday night will be spent at the Plumbers' Union Lodge at Clear Lake. Sunday will be spent sightseeing and enjoying a boat tour prior to the trip home over a different route.

These have been some changes made but many of the faces are the same and so, persons interested in singing with the former North County Choraliers will be happy to learn that they will find Patti Parks and Mrs. Cherilyn Duncan working with the Community Choraliers in South San Francisco.

The city Council of South San Francisco voted to include the choral group in their Park and Recreation program last month.

Patti is most eager that everyone in the north county, as well as South San Francisco residents, take an interest in the group and, if musically inclined, come out for the Thursday evening rehearsals.

The chorus meets each Thursday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Hillside Recreation Center, near Linden Avenue in South San Francisco. Anyone wanting to have an audition may call 588-6200, extension 8, for an appointment. All singers are expected to provide their own music, Mrs. Parks stressed.

The community Choraliers will shortly be available for public performances and welcome invitations to appear before any civic groups.

The greatest floral display ever held in this community will be the joint project of the Variety Club Women and the North California Floral Industry made up of the San Francisco Bay Area Retail Florists Association, The Master Florists Association, Teleflora, FTD Florists, and the Bay Area Wholesalers and Growers.

The program, "Living With Flowers" will be presented on June 27, 28 and 29 in the San Francisco Hall of Flowers. The preview on June 27 will include a champagne reception and tickets will be sold for $5 each. The event will be held between 6 and 9 p.m. Tickets for Saturday and Sunday will be sold for $2 each and the show will be open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. On Saturday and from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Mrs. Irving Levin, president of the Variety Club Women, has announced that top floral designers will be on hand everyday and will create award winning arrangements which will be made available to guests.

Tickets will be sold at the door or may be arranged for by calling Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, Plaza 5-8981. All proceeds are pledged to the Blind Baby Foundatio.

Mrs. Vicki Hildabrand, Mrs. Barbara Cash Evaroff, Mrs. Lola Bocci and Mrs. Eleanor Dunbar were welcomed into the membership of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home during the annual New Members Luncheon held in the home of Mrs. Vi Greenwood.

Mrs. Marie Poggio, president, received the guests of honor and members of the circle at the door of the Greenwood home.

Miss Jean Boltin, executive director of the Florence Crittenton Home spoke about the home and the expanded services which help unwed mothers who wish to keep their children find proper housing, day care for their infants and give counseling service to the young women.

Assisting Mrs. Greenwood and Mrs. Poggio with the hostess duties were Mrs. Tish Cecconi, Mrs. Phyllis Odenthal and Mrs. Dorothy Orlich.

This weeks column will be the last regular Datebook for the summer. While most of the clobs and organizations are on their annual summer vacation this space will be devoted to honoring the outstanding girls who are graduating from Jefferson, Westmoor, Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools.

Serramonte High Students Elect Their New Officers

Serramonte Student body elections for the fall of the 1969-1970 school year featured 17 students seeking available positions.

All new officers will carry the burden of getting Serramonte on its feet in all aspects on its own campus next time.

The platforms of the presidential candidates Tom Nuris (for re-election) and Anne Brawley, were controversial, the main subject being the recent concern over "sensitivity training" activities at Serramonte.

Tom defeated Anne.

Sylvia Howard was victorious over Pattie Putnam, Diane Ynostroza, and Bev Gates for vice-president. Sylvia had served on the United Relations Council this year.

The incumbent Meg Milani defeated Linda Thimis for the office of student body secretary.

The new Treasurer, Beverly Yee, won over Dennis Banks.

Election for Rally Commissioner was probably a difficult one for most of the students in that four people were running; Robyn Neuhaus, former vice-president; Jeannette Guisto who sponsored the yell leader cheer presenting Martin Blackfield, Steve Carr, and Barry Miguel, Cathy Bradish, Soph class president, and Debbie Bronstein.

The runoff between Debbie and Cathy resulted in Debbie's victory as rally commissioner and Cathy as her assistant.

Commissioner of Clubs, Jill Leibowitz, won an unopposed campaign.

Anita Brooks ran for re-election as commissioner of entertainment and was successful.

Janet Feldman attained the office of Commissioner of Publicity.

The first annual awards assembly of Serramonte High commenced on June 4 in the Boys' Gym. Although it is unusual for this program to occur in a two-year school without seniors, Serramonte wanted to start the tradition during its first year.

The first awards to be presented were those of executive board members. The recipients of the certificates and pins were Jim DeAlba, Robyn Neuhaus, Meg Milani, Bev Gates, Tom Nuris, Raul Villareal, Cindy Toner, Michelle Fontenont, LaVonne Winding, Steve Rosenthal, Anita Brooks, Leslie Roay, Yolanda Bell, David Silverman, Eugene Smotkin, and Shelley Wolf. Tom Nuris and Jim DeAlba, student body presidents, received a gavel in addition to the pin and certificate.

Frosh class officer awards were given Jill Leibowitz, Debbie Ostrow, Barry Miguel, Lewis Frucht, and Jim Whitley.

Sophomore officers: Tom Nuris, Mike McBride, Ellen Gross, Sandi Baswell, Cathy Bradish, Janet Madonich, and Karen Singer. Youth-In-Government participants Larry Nebron, George Segall, Cynthia Smallwood, Dan Weissberg, and Shelley Wolf, also received achievement certificates presented by Mr. Tugendreich.

Shelley Wolf received a best-staffer award placque from the San Mateo Times and a school certificate from same and a certificate recognizing her Invest-In-America best school award.

A Foreign Language department award went to Laurie deGhetaldi, who will very soon be going to Germany on a foreign exchange program, Josephine Wang, Jeannette Gulsto, and Vickie Acosta.

National Forensic League members of Serramonte, Caroline Ceeconi, Larry deGhetladi, Larry Nebron, Eileen Duag, David Silverman, Vila Nelson, and Anita Olsen were presented awards.

Music awards were presented by Howard Loeffler. The recipients were (Mixed Chorale) Lori Anderson, Kenneth Boyd, Jill Leibowitz, Pat Lewis, Pebble Lovings, Gregory Neister, Lillian Montalvo, Janet Olita, Carol Taylor, and Barry Lichtman; (Spring Orchestra) Vivian Schlicht and Sylvia Howadr; (Advanced Band) Alice Gee, Diana Harthill, Pat Hicks, Loren Lavezolli, Diane Lipman, Tom Nuris, Kathy Orme, Aaron Orme, Lynn Rash, and Kris Tofting; (Stage Band) Mike Garrity, Bowman Ching, and Charles Robinson.

to Linda Dal Porta, and other typing achievement awards giv net o Rosemarie DeBono, Carolyn Manbert, Frances Laidr, and Irene Young.

As the assembly drew to a close Principal Lou Martin stalled effectively before announcing the class winner of the first perpetual spirit trophy. It was announced that the winner was the Sophomore class.

MEMBERS of the Day City Community Chorus directed by Dennis Desjardins (back to camera, above), are preparing for their annual performance at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. In addition to other popular numbers, the chorus is rehearsing for tunes from Camelot and My Fair Lady. Practice is continuing through the summer months each Thursday at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse, 123 Edgemont Drive, Daly City, from 8-10:30 p.m. Residents interested in joining the group should call director Desjardins. WINNERS of the Pinewood Derby challenge at Daly City's Christopher Columbus school, between Cub Scout Pack 46 of Burlingame and Pack 182 of Daly City were (left to right) Frank Bologna, Pack 182, third; Mike Luippold, Pack 182, second; George Parsons, Jr., Pack 46, first.

Mothers of All Faiths Conduct Benefit Auction

Mothers of All Faiths held a White Elephant auction in the garage of Mrs. Stanton Lee of Daly City on June 5.

The proceeds will go to help support their new foster child, Manoel Reginaldo de Jesus, 8, from Brazil, and other charities to which they donate.

During July and August, the club will not meet, but will resume activities in September in time to make plans for their fund raising fashion show, "Fashion Tee-Off" at the California Club in South San Francisco on October 11.

Summer Program Ready

STARTING ON JUNE 23, the Pacifica Recreation Department's day camp program will be opened with a full schedule of arts and crafts, for boys and girls, ages seven through 12. Registrations may be made at the Recreation Office, City Hall. Gil West President Of Coast Players

Gil West, longtime resident of Pacifica and well-known to audiences in the coastside area, was elected president of the Pacifiac Spindrift Players June 3.

West, employed by the John O'Connel School as an instructor in San Francisco, succeeds Aubrey Lumley for the 1969-70 season.

Upon his election, West commented "It has become gratifying to see consistent development and growth of the Pacifica Spindrift players into a fine little theatre group with professional standards. The quality and dedication of the membership has been combined with energetic and imaginative leadership to set the season for 1969-70. We have been given such a running start . . . (by the 1968-69 officers) . . . that we would be defying the laws of inertia not to have a great season accompanied by new growth."

Elected to serve with West on the executive board are Dennis Krier, Berneice Olson, Darrel Greer, Arnold Turner, Virginia Johnson, and Lumley. All are residents of Pacifica and both Turner and Lumley are past presidents.

The background experience in theatre of the new board will bring to the Pacifica Spindrift players a continuity that it has experienced over the past few years.

An announcement of the productions planned for the upcoming season will be made shortly.

Persons interested in participating in any phase of theatre, membership, or wish further information are urged to contact the new president.

Service Unit Installs Staff

At special ceremonies held recently at the Muffin Mine in Pacifica, Mrs. Scott Moore was installed as president of the Pacifica Auxiliary to the Family Service Agency of San Mateo County.

Honored guests at the meeting included Dr. Henry S. Richanbach, president of the Family Service Agency of San Mateo, and Ray Saari, Paciifca consultant.

Other officers who will serve with Mrs. Moore during the ensuing year are: Miss Virginia Silva, vice president; Mrs. John (Pat) Pringle, recording secretary) Mrs. Edward (Mary) Nolan, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Michael (Laura) Brozicevic, treasurer.

Mrs. Alan Kirby, who will serve as projects chairman, advised that several fund-raising projects are being considered for the year, proceeds of which will be pledged to support the Pacifica office of the Family Service Agency.

Cancer Volunteers Will Be Honored

Women volunteers who directed the American Cancer Society's 1969 "tell your neighbor" campaign in their own communities throughout San Mateo County will be honored at a recognition luncheon marking the conclusion of the educational and fund raising crusade. The event is scheduled for Wednesday, June 18 at noon at the Lionel Clumecks' residence, 145 Stonehedge Drive, Hillsborough.

Final campaign reports, with special honors to "over the top" fund raising cities, will head the agenda. A brief business meeting of the county's ACS branch board of directors will precede the afternoon entertainment.

The poolside gardens of the Clumeck home will be setting for the box luncheon and program. Invitations have been sent to all city and area chairmen serving during the April Crusade against Cancer.

To bring the volunteers first hand information about how the Cancer Society's research dollars are spent, Dr. John E. Hoff of Redwood City will report on the World Conference on Uterine Cancer which he attended recently in New Orleans as a San Mateo County ACS Branch representative. Dr. Hoff, long time board member, currently heads the branch uterine cancer detection demonstration project.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Clumeck will be Mmes. Robert Hermann, Raymond Janis, Oscar Pieper, James Ocampo, Robert Yonts, John Halpin, Arthur Clumeck, Charles Geraci, Eugene Nelson, Fred Thomas and Jane Boldemann.

MRS. MARY MILTON of 41 Park Plaza Drive admires scrolled plaque presented to her son, Raymond Milton by members of the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees, who were among over 125 area education and civic leaders paying tribute to Milton last week.

D.C. Tribute To Trustee Ray Milton

Over 125 friends and collegues — education and municipal leaders—Wednesday echoed a sincere tribute at a testimonial dinner for retiring Jefferson Union High School District trustee Raymond Milton of Daly City.

The affair was held at Nicks' Rockaway restaurant in Pacifica, one of the three communities which the district serves.

Milton, after one term of office, did not seek re-election and his chair will be assumed by Mrs. Jane Powell on July 1.

He was considered by trustees and community leaders alike as a dedicated board member and a "true friend of education."

Milton is a teacher at Lowell High School, San Francisco from which he was graduated, and heads social studies.

Barbershop Auditions Set By Singers

A special "open house-audition" for prospective barbershop quartet and chorus singers will be held by the San Francisco chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America on Thursday evening, June 19. The event will begin at 7:00 p.m., following a program in the mall of the Serramonte Shopping Center, Daly City, beginning at 6:30.

The San Francisco ("Cable Car") chapter has more than 45 members, who reside in San Francisco, Daly City and Pacifica. Its president, Bob Jernigan, invites "any guys who just love to sing for fun" to attend on June 19.

According to Jerry Orloff, Far West District public relations officer of the SPEBSQSA, well over 34,000 members make up the society nationally. "There are 600 chapters", he added, "and more than 1000 registered quartets throughout the United States and Canada."

The open-house-audition on June 19 will be the first ever held by the chapter in this form. Logically enough, it will take place in the Serramonte Center's barber shop. "Reading music is not a requirement," Orloff said, "and no prior knowledge of barbershop harmony singing is needed."

The cake must be baked and decorated by both father and son with no help from mother or any other member of the family. The cake will not be judged on its appearance, but for its decoration.

The following Cubs received achievement awards at a recent meeting:

Den 1: Danny Gruen, Bobcat; Ronnie Nelson, Bobcat; Tony Martinez, Denner stripe; Jonathan Schaffler, assistant denner stripe.

The couple's betrothal was disclosed at a party given by Francine's aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Banks of Daly City. They will be married on August 9 at Our Lady of the Pillar Catholic Church in Half Moon Bay.

Francine is the granddaughter of Pasquale Bertolucci and Annie Pecoraro. She attended Half Moon Bay High School and the College of San Mateo.

Cynthia Ferreira and Sharon Ferreira of Half Moon Bay will be junior bridesmaids and Jodi Ferreira of Half Moon Bay will serve as the flower girl.

Frank Barnekoff will come from Bandon to be his brother's best man. Guests will be seated by Jay Weyermann of Mountain View and Dennis Bertolucci, Dale Bertolucci, and Joseph Pecoraro of El Granada. Mark Banks of Daly City will be the ring bearer.

Daniel Webster Teacher Honored

Mrs. Ruth Rogers, retiring teacher at Daniel Webster School, was the honored guest at a tea on June 4.

The tea and program, held in the school's multi-use room, was given by her fellow teachers, parents, students and friends.

The theme of the evening was "The Yellow Rose of Texas." The room, filled to capacity, was decorated with yellow roses.

Mrs. Ernest Bloom was in charge of the program which was made up of students Mrs. Rogers had taught during her 21 years in the district. Mrs. Joseph Brand introduced students from the 1950s.

The students from 1960-1064 presented an original skit entitled, "A day in the life of a fourth grade teacher." The skit was written and directed by Mrs. Glenys Glen.

The 1964-1966 students presented choral speaking. The original piece was written by John Truch.

Next, the staff sang a parody to the honored guest.

Mrs. Susan Borg, glee club instructor, directed the glee club and orchestra in a tribute to the retiring teacher.

Fred Heron had the fifth graders do a tumbling exhibition to show the importance of physical fitness.

Mrs. Elda Black led Mrs. Rogers' own third-fourth graders in singing the "Yellow Rose of Texas" and "The Eyes of Texas." Afterward, each child presented Mrs. Rogers with a long stemmed yellow rose.

The sixth graders, as hosts and hostesses, presented Mrs. Rogers with a silver comb, brush, and mirror set, a tape recording of the evening, the guest book, a scroll and a scrapbook.

The scrapbook had on its' cover a portrait of Mrs. Rogers drawn by Robert McClay.

Mrs. Rogers has been a teacher in the Jefferson Elementary School district since 1948. She came to Daniel Webster when it was opened in 1959.

She and her mother, Mrs. Willie Harrison, are returning to Fort Worth, Texas, to make their home upon her retirement.

Cake Decoration Class Planned

A cake decorating class for young ladies between the ages of 11 and 17 will be sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department beginning Thursday, June 26. The six-week class will be held from 10 a.m. to noon on Thursdays.

Mayor Angry Over Daly City Circular

A circular presently being distributed throughout Daly City urging citizens to support retirement of firemen and policemen at age 50 was slapped by city officials June 2 who labeled it "misleading and unfair to other city employees."

In a release made public last week, Mayor Bernard Lycett said the circular asking for support of Assembly Bill 374 is discriminatory in that it provides for retirement of only police and firemen at age 50, instead of age 55.

If the state legislature passes the controversial bill, Daly City will have to come up with an additional $175,000 the first year. This would necessitate a 14-cent raise on the current tax rate dollar.

All other employees under the retirement system cannot retire until age 60, Lycett explained.

Police and firemen now may retire after 20 years of service at one-half pay at age 55, or may receive additional pay if more years of service are accumulated by the time of retirement.

All other city employees must have served 30 years. Lycett called the circular "misleading," and if passed, could be the forerunner of added legislation.

500 at Westmoor Graduate June 11

Wednesday evening, June 11, at 6 p.m. approximately 500 seniors clad in cap and gown will receive diplomas, signifying graduation from Westmoor High School.

After marching in to the strains of the "Triumphant Processional," Reverend Herbert Tweedie, will give the Inovcation. Following his speech, senior class President Richard Knowloch (fall) and Michael Milon (spring) will welcome parents to the graduation ceremony and introduce senior class speaker Cathy Meade, speaking on the theme, "Today the Classroom — Tomorrow the World."

Announcing such honors as salutatorians and valedictorian, outstanding senior boy or girl, and scholarships, will be Assistant Principal-Guidance, Margaret Riggs, who will be followed by Principal Richard Coltrell. Coltrell will present the class of '69 to the audience.

Raymond Milton, member of the School Board will award diplomas to the June graduates as Assistant Principal Walter Gloistein (administration) and Vice Principal Clayton Kollmann announce the names of each student.

Two $50 scholarships were awarded by the Westmoor Parent Teachers Association May 15 at their final meeting.

Mary Thuener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thuener of 154 Belcrest Avenue received one. Mary plans on attending the University of San Francisco where she will major in teaching. Last fall Mary did cadet teaching at M. Pauline Brown School. She had such success working with the educationally handicapped that her adviser, Mrs. Anne Maionchi received special words of praise from the principal.

Bill Brown, son of Mrs. Yvonne Brown of 62 Eastwood Avenue also received a scholarship which will be used to meet travel expenses for using his scholarship at the Berklee School of Music in Boston for a summer study program. Bill, who plans to major in classical guitar at the U. of Nevada, who also awarded him a scholarship. He is active in music programs at Westmoor and is a member of the stage band.

Reassurance On Park Is Given Coast

County supervisors June 3 assured Pacifica officials the Maestri Property on the Coastside remains the board's "first choice" for a new regional park in the North County area.

Board Chairman Robert St. Clair outlined a $472,000 fund application submitted to the Department of the Interior in connection with the project, and said plans are "moving ahead" to obtain the property.

"However, it will be 1970-71 before we can program the project," St. Clair said at an informal meeting between the board and the council.

San Bruno Mountain property near Daly City remains in "second priority" in the board's consideration of a park site, according to the supervisors.

City officials were less satisfied with the board's reaction to a proposal to develop a branch library at the Sanchez Adobe site in Linda Mar.

County officials said they would have difficulty financing construction of any new library facilities with present allocations.

"Our library fund is only $30,000 each year," St. Clair said, "and there is not enough money to construct a new facility in a single year."

He suggested that the city consider constructing the facility on a "matching fund" basis.

"It would change the outlook considerably if the city would provide a portion of the money," the chairman said.

Mayor Nick Gust and other city officials agreed to give consideration to the "matching fund" suggestion.

MISS DALY CITY — Caroline Rickenbacher (right), a 17-year-old dark blonde, who with measurements of 35-24-35, hopes to become a teacher and a model, shows her glee following her selection Wednesday as the new "Miss Daly City." She received her tiara and congratulations from last year's queen, Miss Dorothy Barragan (left). Janet Calegari, 17, was first runner-up. Patricia Kelley, also 17, was second runner-up.

Daly City Blaze Damages New Cars

Two new cars and some clothing were damagde by fire shortly before 7 a.m. June 4 at the W. R. Conwell home in Daly City.

A fire department spokesman said clothing on the garage floor of the Conwell residence "possibly" started burning when leaking gasoline from a nearby outboard motor was ignited by the pilot light of the gas drier.

Damage to the Ashland home and contents of the garage was estimated at $1,300 by fire officials.

Firemen said two new cars were damaged. Two front tires and the motor were burned and the paint blistered on one, while the other, "baby blue" in color, had soot marks all over it.

There was heavy black soot damage throughout the house.

The Conwells were not yet up when John Conwell, a teen-ager, smelled smoke, investigated and called firemen at 6:53 a.m.

In another call this morning, at 7:40, firemen used a water vacuum to clean up a small basement room at the Westlake Baptist Church at Southgate and Elmwood.

A water tube leaked and some 100 gallons of water flooded the basement.

78 Honors For Students At Crestmoor

More than 78 awards, scholarships, and honors were bestowed upon nearly 100 Crestmoor High School graduating seniors at the first evening awards assembly ever held in the school's history Tuesday, June 3, in the Little Theater.

The annual event, sponsored by the CHS Scholarship Committee and witnessed by parents, students, and faculty had the largest number of scholastic-achievement honors ever issued by the school to a graduating class.

Leading the distinguished group of recipients were valedictorian Kathleen Fitzgerald and senior class president Michael Lair.

Kathleen is the school's first National Merit Scholarship winner, the Vincent R. Capodanno Memorial Merit Scholarship. The 4.0 (straight A) student also is the winner and holder of other honors including class valedictorian; the school's outstanding girl student; Pacific Gas and Electric award; Lion's Club outstanding girl student; Outstanding Teen-agers of America certificate; Reader's Digest Valedictorian Award; National Merit Certificate of Merit; Bank of America Plaque Award in the field of liberal arts; California Scholarship Federation Life Member; golden Key Society member.

Michael Lair along with being the class president has been voted the class' outstanding boy student and recipient of the Lion's Club Trophy. He has been admitted to the United States Naval Academy; Outstanding Student in French; Bank of America Award Certificate Winner in Foreign Languages; and California Scholarship Federation Life Member.

Driver Is Charged As Woman Hurt

A Daly City man was arrested and charged with felony drunk driving June 3 after the car he was driving slammed into another vehicle at the corner of Wilson and Mission streets, injuring a woman.

Arrested immediately following the collision was William Price, 40, of 347 San Diego Avenue, Daly City.

Police lieutenant Tom Culley said he spotted Price's car weaving down Mission Street and decided to follow it.

Before Culley could stop the suspect's car it collided with another car driven by Mrs. Vivian Feller of 443 Niantic Street, Daly City.

The woman was taken to Mary's Help Hospital after complaining of neck and back pains. She was treated and released.

Grass Fire Is Extinguished

Firemen from the State Division of Forestry headquarters in Belmont extinguished an acre grassfire off Holly Avenue in South San Francisco on San Bruno Mountain Friday.

Firemen, who annually extinguished between 40 and 50 fires on the north Peninsula landmark, reported it was the eighth of the season, the same number as last year at this time.

Terra Nova Beats Cap

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

A throwing arm, known for its power, and another arm, thought to be injury-wracked, propelled the Terra Nova Tigers to the Central Coast Section Baseball Championships last Friday and Saturday at Buck Shaw Stadium.

Al Figone's Tigers, coming off a two-plus week break in games, upended Capuchino, 3-1, yesterday in the semi-final round the the CCS playoffs. The win means that the Tigers will face Gunn High School, champs of the South Peninsula League and playoff winner over Los Altos, in the feature 8 p.m. game Friday night.

Right-hander John Burgess threw no-hit ball at the Mustangs for the first six and one-third innings, weakened noticeably in that last frame allowing three hits and barely held on for the win, thanks to alert play by catcher Mike Rawlings.

Rawlings, who hadn't caught for about two months after an injury to this throwing shoulder forced him to first base, made his ifrst start behind the plate an impressive one. He threw out two runners, the latter saving the game for TN.

The Tigers, who had their first batter on base from the third inning on, finally made it pay off in the sixth. Until then Burgess and sophomore Terry Ruggles had matched scoreless innings. Ruggles again was called on to pitch for Cap when right-hander Matt Kriletich did not respond to treatment for his mononucleosis and didn't even suit up.

In the sixth Mike Humphrey led off with a single and Bill Downing followed with another safety. Pat Woodward popped out and Mike Calder, the North Peninsula League's leading hitter with a .500 average, forced Downing at second. Calder then stole second before Rawlings smashed Ruggles' first pitch into left field for two RBIs and all the runs Burgess was to need.

Burgess aided his own cause in the seventh when, after Greg Lynch had tripled deep to left left field, he smashed a double to bring in the final Tiger run.

Then things started getting rocky for the fastballing thrower. Gary Hernandez drove right fielder Tim Lutz to the base of the fence before Lutz could catch the first long and hard-hit out. Burgess, rapidly losing the magic touch that had stood him so well to that point, then gave up a solid single to Tim Ballard and another ground ball single to Rod Armanino. Last weeks hero, George Gladius, then topped an infield hit to short to load the bags with one out.

Bob Scialanga then drove a deep drive to center field that scored Ballard easily. Cap coach Don Laclergue then called on pinchhitter Paul Maples to bat for Ruggles. Burgess was wild low on the first two pitches.

MARK LOBAUGH and Jane Kinsky won "Most Outstanding Swimmer" awards for 1969 in annual Pacifica championships.

Though it was the first swim win for Lobaugh, Miss Kinsky was co-holder of the title in 1967, tying with Ann Schneider.

Flood of Memories With Tobin's Death

THE RECENT DEATH of Jim Tobin, the colorful old flutterball pitcher from Oakland who lasted for nine years and 105 wins with a variety of teams in the majors and baffled Coast League hitters for many seasons both before and after his big league stint, brought back a flood of memories.

Curiously, we remember Tobin as a hitter more than a pitcher. When he was in the Coast League he hit some of the longest balls we've ever seen hit by anyone, and his hitting prowess in the majors was legendary. He still holds the major league record for pitchers hitting homeruns in a single game. In 1942, while pitching for the Boston Braves, he hit three out. Tobin was possibly as well known for his after-hour stints, his hell-for-leather social life. He was a throw-back, a guy who probably should have played for the Gas House Gang.

Terra Nova Assistant Principal Rich Burt, an ex-professional ball player, has a favorite story about Tobin which just about sums up hs prowess as a player and his facility for enjoying life.

The year was sometime in the early '50's, and concerns Tobin's one-pitch comeback. Burt was in the service at the time and playing for a semi-pro team in the Bay Area during his off days and hours. As luck would have it, the team was sponsored by a brewery. The pay in those days was $10 and all the beer you could drink after the game.

One day they were scheduled to play a pro team, Wenatchee of the class A Western International League, and the manager — who loved to pick up name players—ran into Tobin a day or two before the game and told him that if he wanted to pick up a quick 10 he'd love to have him sit the bench for the Wenatchee game and maybe pitch an inning of two or pinch-hit in an emergency. Tobin, recently retired, tried to beg off, explaining that he was out of shape and his arms didn't feel too good, and the manager told him, who needs a good arm to throw a knuckle ball, and Tobin continued to demure, and finally the brewery team manager pulled out his hole card and told Tobin that after the game he could have all the beer he could drink . . . free, whereupon Tobin declared that he really was itching to make a comeback and agreed to the Wenatchee trip.

SO THERE WAS Tobin up in Wenatchee lounging on the bench with the brewery holding a one run lead in the seventh inning and their starting pitcher doing very nicely, and all of a sudden Wenatchee had the bags loaded with one out and dangerous minor league hitter named Jimmy Witherspoon at the plate, and the brewery pitcher decided he had lost his stuff, as did the brewery manager, who removed him and called in Tobin, who hadn't even yet removed his jacket.

Burt was catching at the time and when he went to discuss signals with Tobin, Jim waved him off, telling him he had one pitch, the flutterball. Burt went back behind the plate and while Witherspoon stood aside, motioned to Tobin that he was ready to take his warmup pitches.

Now, Tobin had always been known as a guy who didn't need many warmup pitches, mainly because knuckle ball pitchers don't usually throw hard enough to have to loosen anything, but Burt could hardly believe his eyes when Tobin waved Witherspoon to the plate and Burt behind it. Burt knew that Tobin probably hadn't thrown a baseball in at least six months (he hadn't even played catch before the game), so just crouched, put his mitt up, and hoped for the best.

As Burt recalls, the ball barely made it to the plate and looked so fat that Witherspoon literally smacked his lips as it fluttered up to him. He took a vicious swing, hit a shot at the shortstop, who flipped to second to start the doubleplay which ended the inning.

TOBIN AMBLED from the mound amid backslaps, got to the bench, grabbed his jacket, and started moseying on back to the clubhouse. The brewery manager asked Tobin where he was going, since he was expected to pitch the eighth and ninth innings.

"Well Skip," Tobin replied, "I think I've had enough. I'm gonna go drink all those beers you promised me."

And thus ended his comeback, fading over the horizon with a bottle of beer in his pitching hand.

PITTSBURGH's sensational freshman third baseman Richie Hebner may have a major league batting average, but until he learns to fix his knickers properly, he's bush league as far as we're concerned.

If you examine a recent front cover of the Sporting News very carefully, you'll note that Hebner's knickers are not tucked under, but hang straight down, with the elastic ends showing.

Now, even in bush ball, the first giveaway of a lamb, a rook, aside, perhaps, from the way he applies his sliding pads (turned around in such a way as to hinder his freedom of running greatly), is the way he finishes off the donning of his knickers . . . properly tucking the elastic under, using, if necessary, a garter-like contrapton of some sort to assure a continuing tuck. If he allows the elastic to hang, it is known by one and all that he is green and therefore subject to ridicule.

It seems to us that if Pittsburgh had any real class, somebody would show the kid how to fix his pants. The way he's going, his batting average will begin dipping before he hits the sophomore jinx.

NOTES: As we write this (the trouble with a weekly column is that by the time it appears, fate has often thrown an egg in your face, so you must always append as "As we write this" to any remarks dealing with numerical fact), Willie McCovey has the highest batting average of any of the leading homerun hitters, which once again confirms what we've always said: Willie isn't just a long ball hitter . . . he's a fine hitter, period.

And we interpret Clyde King's insertion of Kenny Henderson at third base a sign of panic. Nor do we understand the benching of Ron Hunt, who, .220 batting average or not, still gets on base, which is the commodity the Giants now need most. You don't start a youth movement in what could be a pennant year . . . unless you've already given up on the season.

Cap's Gladius MPL 'Player Of the Year'

Capuchino High School's George Gladius, the league's leading hitter and regarded also as the best defensive centerfielder in the Mid-Peninsula League, was selected as the MPL's Player of the Year at the All-League selections held last week at Hillsdale High School.

The championship battery of pitcher Matt Kriletich and catcher Bob Wyncoop gave the title-holding Mustangs three spots on the All-MPL eleven. Gladius stroked for a .436 average while Kriletich had a 7-4 record and Wyncoop, just a junior, hit .333 in league action.

Joining Kriletich on the mound were first-team selectees Rich Haderer (5-2) of Mills and Crestmoor's wispy Dave Wright (4-3).

Four infielders comprised the inner defenses as Crestmoor's Bob Forsythe (.305), Hillsdale's Bob King (.341), San Mateo's Steve Bissett (.344) and Burlingame's Paul Schmuck (.295) all made the first squad.

Flanking Gladius in the outfield were Burlingame's Skip Conley (.361) and Aragon's Bruce Nelson (.326).

Forsythe and King join Wyncoop as returning lettermen next season.

Honorable mentions were awarded thusly: Aragon — Kevin Collins and Larry Hartman, pitchers; Burlingame — Steve Luchessi, outfield, Bob Davis and Tony Gula, infield, Mike Hanchey, pitcher; Capuchino — Frank Ortisi, infield, Don Jepson, outfield; Crestmoor — Craig Heden, infield, Jeff Micklos, outfield; Hillsdale — Abe Schaffer, pitcher, Pete Kaine and Tom Hamer, outfield; Mills-Mark Brosche, pitcher; San Mateo—Scott Morrison, catcher.

Longley's Is Financial District Dining Favorite

Located picturesquely atop the multi-level parking lot at the corner of Ba tery and Washington, Longley's, only months old, is already a favorite dining place among those who toil in the Financial District of San Francisco. Jeff Business Courses Set

Business education for the Jefferson Union High School District's Adult Division will be well represented in the summer quarter. Bookkeeping and accounting, both beginning and review, will be held at Westmoor High School. Business machines, which will include calculators, comptometers, and a variety of other office machines, will be offered both at Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools. Typing for beginners or review will also be offered at Jefferson and Westmoor, while shorthand for review and speed will be offered at Westmoor.

For those adults desiring an introduction to clerical office skills, the six-week Adult Summer Session presents an excellent opportunity to develop entrance skills into the business world. For those adults preferring a more personal type of educational experience for the summer session, clothing and dressmaking will be offered at both Westmoor and Jefferson. Upholstery, which offers an opportunity to brighten up the decor of the home, will be offered at Jefferson.

An advance registration will be held during the week of June 16 through 19. Specific dates are listed in the summer session brochure, which can be picked up at any of the high schools of the District, or the public libraries. Students are encouraged to register early while space is available in the class, as all registrations are made on a first-come, first-served basis. The six-week summer session will run from June 23 to July 31.

Jet Sound Meet Held

Reports on the latest developments in aircraft sound control were made last Friday at the monthly meeting of the San Francisco International Airport Sound Abatement Center.

Retired Airline Captain W. E. Townsend, Director of the Center, revealed he has received 79 noise complaints this past month, with the largest number, 25, coming from South San Francisco.

Efforts of the airlines to control noise, and attempts to get home developers who are building homes under jet paths to soundproof those homes for the protection and comfort of home buyers, were discussed.

County, SSF Relations At Break Point

Relations between South San Francisco and county officials neared the breaking point last week after the Board of Supervisors was told that Mayor Frank Bertucelli had "insinuated" that their handling of a county road might increase the value of a potential real estate transaction.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald reported to his fellow board members that on Monday night the city council had delayed further action on the controversial Westborough Boulevard extension in order to investigate a rumor that the sale of the California Golf Club for residential development depended upon completion of the road.

At the council meeting, Bertucelli said he had information about a proposed $100 million plan to build up to 6,000 residential units on the golf course property. He raised the question whether taxpayers' money should be spent on a road what would increase the value of the supposed real estate transaction.

Board Chairman Robert St. Clair flared indignantly when he heard Fitzgerald's report.

"To insinuate in any way that the county is in cahoots with some developer is absolutely asinine," he declared.

St Clair charged that South San Francisco officials are looking for "phantoms in the night" in order to continue to delay the joint project, which has been held up for two years by bickering between the city and county.

"They're just stalling," the board chairman asserted. "We should notify them that we have done everything we can to get the project going and that, if there is any further delay, there are other road projects that money is sorely needed for.

"If they don't want the project, why don't they just come right out and tell us?"

Fitzgerald urged a calmer approach, however, pointing out that the county has already invested about $1 million in the right of way for the project.

"Let's hold off a couple of weeks," Fitzgeral said, "and see what we can work out. We spent this money and we owe it to the taxpayers to make use of it."

Fitzgerald said he knew of no plans to subdivide the golf course property but declared that, if the property were sold, the buyer would be required to pay for his share of the road.

Supervisors William M. Werder and Jean Fassler expressed resentment over Bertucelli's statement but agreed to a "cooling-off period."

2,000 Year Old Art for Center

When the doors of the new Tanforan Park Shopping Center open, a basic part of the decor will come from an art almost 2,000 years old. Hap Smith, developer of the 20 million dollar San Bruno shopping complex has selected the finest Venetian sculptures in existence to illuminate the enclosed mall. Three gigantic chandeliers made of blown Venetian glass will hang from arbor type skylights. Smith stated he was looking for "a free shape of sculpture and color that will set a mood of warmth and cheerfulness." Each sculpture will be composed of more than one thousand pieces of glass of different sizs, colors and finishes, all hand-blown with different thicknesses. The reflections caused by sunlight will constantly change the effect of luminosity for the people in the mall shopping.

Each of the three chandeliers will be hanging to a depth of almost thirty feet from the color treated skylight arbors. Weighing over two thousands pounds they each will be gathered by 205 "chains" asymmetrically distributed and suspended around a metallic structure which also contains clear lamps. Hap Smith is now in Italy personally going over the plans and inspecting the plant of the glass artisians, Barovier and Toso of Murano, Italy. The works of the Italian company are known to designers and architects the world over.

Members of the village have been involved in the art of glass blowing for over 2,000 years and the families of Barovier and Toso emerged over 500 years ago as one of the finest. The glass sculptures that will adorn the mall of Tanforan Park Shopping Center will be made in much the same way as they would have been two thousand years ago. Primitive furnaces tended by families of blowers produce unique designs with glass no thicker than eggshells. "It is this type of artistry and dedication that we will try to use throughout the shopping center," Smith went on, "We know the people of the area are expecting the best from Tanforan Park, and we are going to make their shopping trips to Tanforan an enjoyable occasion. Even though the center is an entirely enclosed and climate controlled we want to encompass both the liveliness of outdoors and the warmth of the indoors. With the designs of Tanforan Park almost completed, we know this has been accomplished."

Construction of the huge shopping center will start within the next two months on the 48 acre site. The center is located on the grounds of the old Tanforan Race Track, facing the El Camino Real in San Bruno. Sears, Roebuck and Company and J. C. Penney will anchor each end of the two-story 750,000 square foot development.

A new concept in two-story enclosed mall shopping centers will be used. Instead of two separate floors, the upper mall will be mezzanined to create an air of openness. With planter boxrest benches throughout, the entire mall will take on the feeling of being in a climate-controlled park. Initial plans call for parking space for 3,000 cars with a double deck plan to eventually include 5,200 automobiles. Design of the regional shopping center has been created by one of the foremost architects in the world. Victor Gruen Associates of New York and Los Angeles specializes in shopping centers and have designed 82 throughout this country and Canada. Hap Smith has also engaged the firm of Ernest Mann Inc.

ORANGE SALAD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups orange juice
1 cup finely diced celery
Membrane-free sections from 2 medium oranges, drained

Sprinkle gelatin over 1 cup of the orange juice to soften — about 5 minutes. Heat remaining 1 cup of the orange juice to boiling point; add to softened orange juice; stir to dissolve. Add celery and orange sections; turn into half-cup molds or 6-ounce custard cups. Chill until set. Unmold. Garnish with lettuce and, if desired, serve with Roquefort dressing for non-dieters.

Creditable Collection

Over 200 varieties of ready-to-serve meats are made by a approximately 3,000 meat processors in the United States. Many of these are inspired by old world varieties and bear the names of towns or localities where they originated.

Anyone can recognize such places as Bologna, Frankfurt, Genoa, Salamis, Thuringia, and Vienna and know what kind of sausage originated there.

Ancient History

Pork was originally the meat used for making sausage, but during the last 700 years all kinds of meat, alone or blended have been used for sausage and other ready-to-serve meats.

FRANK LA PIERRE (Post Columnist)

Hello Again, Folks

HERE WE ARE BACK behind our battered typewriter again. That vacation was all too short and now we are planning next year's leave already. Oh well, it was great while it lasted!

MEANWHILE, BACK ON THE BEAT — Watch for outgoing Daly City city manager Edward Frank to be offered a "consultant's" post with the city he leaves on July 31. The proposed slot will likely put Frank on a minimal retainer, plus varying amounts depending on the size of the project he tackles. How much money or how much work is involved is still a mystery. Frank says he hasn't been informed of any specifics, as yet, or even if such a post is under consideration by anyone in city government. Frank further explained he just doesn't want to get "pinned down" on anything, work-wise, at this time. And while other city officials "pooh pooh" the matter, we'll wager right now Our Source is correct again!

AND SPEAKING OF MONEY — Daly City police and firemen DO NOT WANT retirement at age 50 as is now being proposed under controversial AB 374. What they DO WANT — and have continued to ask for in recent years — is what they call a "one-half continuance allowance" on retirement. Although it's rather complicated, it boils down to this:

At the present time, police and firemen may retire at age 55. Few, if any, police or firemen are hired over age 30 (usually 25 years old) so this means these employes chalk up about 25-30 years service. There is in fact NO 20-year retirement plan for these two groups. An option these men now have at retirement is whether to continue paying money into a "death fund" to provide for one's spouse if a person dies after retirement, or to wager the spouse will be buried first.

An example: Police Sergeant Doe gets $1,000 monthly salary. He retires at age 55 and receives $500 monthly. He also options to contribute to the "death fund" and he agrees to pay another $100 so his wife will receive $250 for the rest of HER life if HE dies before her. But should his WIFE die first, he is OUT all the hundreds of dollars contributed, plus the sad fact he goes the rest of his life donating that $100.

What these two groups want (and it will cost the city an additional $50,000 annually or five cents on the tax buck) is for the city to pick up the option letting these men off the hook for that $100 monthly. Their plan seems to make more sense than AB 374! It sure costs a heckuva lot less.

WELCOME, WELCOME — Two new faces in the D.C. police lineup: Officers Bob Vogt and Bob Bergstrom.

RUMORS GALORE on muni judge Paul Hupf's decision to resign his post. But the Big Picture still isn't in full focus. Time will tell. Most people hereabouts find it hard to believe Hupf is giving up his bench to return to private practice (albeit more lucrative) and think he is preparing for a bigger step — up, natch!

REVEREND HOWARD BRYANT is sending out hundreds of letters throughout the North County asking businessmen to invest the paltry sum of $5.60 in the future of a needy youth. For that amount a youth can be put to work for four hours at $1.40 per hour. Let's hope Bryant gets more response from this latest plea than he has from the local community on other requests for assistance in this field.

CHANGE ON NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL — Mrs. Maria Luna recently resigned her post on the Neighborhood Council to accept a salaried post with the county. Taking her place on the NC will be Mrs. Henry Monares.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE incoming Daly City city manager Dave Rowe carded a par 72 at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club last week during the annual Chamber of Commerce golf tournament? How about a 244? Well the truth is, Dave walked onto the course for the first time, ever, and walked off after scoring a hefty 246! That's a record, we reckon!

LORENE BEASLEY

An Indictment In Film Deal

WHEN SOME of the purchasers of the Technicolor Home Movie Package deal started to wonder just how many years it would take them to run off some 600 rolls of movie film they had contracted to buy, they began to make inquiries to Better Business Bureaus and chambers of commerce in nearly ever part of the United States.

As a result of these inquiries and complaints. December 3, 1968, Cine-Tech Corp., Development Enterprises, Connecticut and New York firms, along with J. Charles Distributing, Inc., Denver, and Technicolor, Inc., Los Angeles, were named in the United States mail fraud indictment.

The indictment specified that J. Charles Distributing Inc., with John C. Cottrell president, said to be a wholly owned subsidiary of Technicolor, Inc., Cine-Tech Corp. and Development Enterprises, with contracts with J. Charles Distributing to serve as dealers, enrolled purchasers in the Kenrol Film Club, a vehicle for servicing purchasers as "Members."

THESE ENTREPRENEURS would sell a package deal involving Technicolor home movie equipment and 600 rolls of movie film to be processed by Technicolor, Inc. Purchasers of such package deals were enrolled in "clubs," such as Kenrol Film Club and Instant Movie Club. Club members signed a contract for a Technicolor projector, a camera, screen, lights and 600 film exchange stamps entitling them to a new roll of film from Technicolor and placed in the special cartridge requried to fit the projector.

The outfit cost over $500 but the processing of the 600 rolls of film eventually brought the cost to over $2,000.

The indictment against the operators of Technicolor Home Movie Package charged that cards were sent to prospects informing them that they had won a free camera, awarded in conjunction with the Fiftieth Anniversary of Technicolor, Inc. and that film comparable to Kodak would be supplied.

The next step in the promotion was for salesmen to promise prospective purchasers they would have the opportunity to qualify to receive a free home outfit to advertise Technicolor.

The salesmen told clients that projectors were not for sale and would not be available in retail stores for another year. It seemed that everyone who received a card qualified. The movie outfit was Not Free but was sold at an inflated price. The Technicolor projector HAD BEEN available in retail stores for five years.

THEN, IN ORDER to assure itself of the prospective film processing business, Technicolor would sell 600 rolls of film at an alleged reduced cost of $1 per roll. When the 600 rolls were used up another roll would be supplied at no cost to the purchaser, his children, grandchildren, or great grandchildren.

According to the indictment, the cost of the film was hidden in the cost of the processing; Technicolor did not intend the film offer to go beyond the lifetime of the purchaser, and the the pruchaser would have to pay in advance for processing before being suppled another roll of film.

The scheme also involved, according to the indictment, representations that the equipment was valued at $500 to $600, whereas in truth the retail value was approximately $280 and would have to be paid for rather than furnished at no cost as claimed.

The indictment also found that, instead of ten years to pay as promised by the salesmen, the paper was sold, without recourse, to financial institutions.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Both Sides in Berkeley Confrontation Blamed

Editor, The Post;

The fence today is titled People's Park. The fence of tomorrow (you can rest assured as God made little green apples that there will be a tomorrow's fence) will also be properly titled to draw the most participants in another great confrontation.

"Confrontation" is the name of the game played by one side and "A gigantic communistic conspiracy" is the name given by the opposite side. Caught in between are millions of law abiding, hard working, confused taxpayers and parents. We sit as spectators as the present two sides continue to hammer away as to who is to blame and who is to concede. We in turn are treated as those who merely foot the bill and who do not have the intellectual ability of the great ones in Sacramento-Washington, D.C., etc. and our college campuses to really understand the problems. To these great ones the time is now that we say loud and clear, "Brothers, you are both to blame!" We refuse to continue to remain docile while both of you continue to tear our colleges and country apart.

To you college intellectuals we say, "Every time there is violence confrontated on our campuses we will respond with another defeated college bond and a more vigorous demand of proper and swift prosecution of the violent ones." To you, our great elected leaders, we say, "If you cannot or will not act in a meaningful way to see that the academic-related reasons that create unrest are corrected, thus removing the ammunition that our revolutionaries thrive on, then we will remove all of you from office come the next election."

The dry rot of a gigantic communistic conspiracy cannot be continued to be used in place of realistic reasoning and amenable solutions in areas that facts support a needed change. Commonsense indicates that they have to be academic-related to draw their huge support or else we have to assume that nothing but revolutionaries and anarchists are in all our colleges. As a parent of a recently graduated U.C. student and the parent of another U.C. student who is completing his second year at U.C. I cannot accept the communistic theory. A helicopter that gasses a student who has walked a mile out of his way to attend his classes in a nonviolent manner is not the proper method to obtain needed police support.

A steel bar imbedded in an officer's chest is also not the proper method to gain support for one's cause. With violence you end up with mistakes on both sides and having had experience in police work a great number of years, I know this to be a true statement. If a sincere effort is made by both sides to iron out the academic-related reasons that create "fences" then and only then can you eliminate or separate the real revolutionaries and anarchists from the true students. There is no doubt that the Vietnam issue has been used as a potential force to create our campus disorders. Ignoring academic-related reasons instead of correcting them has provided necessary ammunition for the radicals. Frustration seems to be the present hangup of our intellectuals on campus and our intellectuals in Sacramento-Washington, D.C., etc.

Now is the time to communicate to both sides that if they want "Real frustration" we who are caught in the middle will gladly accommodate them by letting them foot the entire cost

California Star Was First Paper

"On the 31st day of July, 1846 — one of those bright breezy afternoons peculiar to San Francisco at this season of the year — a ship sailed through the headlands of the Bay, and passing the battery at Fort Point, furled her sails and dropped anchor off the little known town obscurely known as Yerba Buena." Thus Edward Cleveland Kemble began his story, "Twenty Years Ago."

Edward Kemble was the printer of the first San Francisco newspaper — the California Star. He was eighteen years old when the first edition appeared in the streets of San Francisco. Before that time he had come to California on the Good Ship Brooklyn — his employer was Samuel Brannan, the Mormon leader who brought a printing press with him.

Kemble described him as "a sallow cadaverous, hard-featured man . . . a power among the dull, pliant minds about him."

The first edition of the California Star was published the very day of the final battle for California of the Mexican War. Among the stories was a letter from R. F. Stockton proclaiming that "the Territory of California now belongs to the United States, and will be governed as soon as circumstances may permit, by officers and laws similar to those by which the other territories of the United States are regulated and protected."

The editor of the California Star was Elbert P. Jones whom Kemble called a thin, green-spectacled, billious-looking personage." His first editorial cried for freedom of the press. "So long as that instrument stands the press is free in all countries under the Star Spangled Flag.

"Nothing," he said, "but the abuse of power will retard its operations or destroy its usefulness."

A note in the second paper of volume one of the California Star informed all persons in the San Francisco area having hogs are notified to keep them penned up or the owner would be fined five dollars.

While the progress of the Mexican War fills the pages of subsequent issues of the California Star, there are many things that told about the quality of life in early San Francisco.

An item in the july 10 issue stated "We look forward with pleasure, and hail the day as not far distant when our bay's broad waters shall float the swift sailing steamer."

Another article stated that the paper was repeatedly asked why there was not more attention to the interests of California.

The paper of November 6 noted that a meeting had been called in the house of Robert Gordon Esq. to make arrangements for the popular observance of a New England "Thanksgiving."

As the paper progressed, the number of advertisements increased, poetry and humor were added — news from "States" told of the groups that were being formed to come to California.

The California Star was in its second volume when gold was discovered in Coloma. Mr. Kemble denounced the gold discoveries as a "delusion and a snare and later editions fought against the gold mines. However, the Star as well as the Daily California suspended publication in June 1848 because their staffs left town for the gold fields.

The earliest editions of the Star were published in a book that appeared in 1965 and may be read in most public libraries.

BARBARA BLADEN

Menotti, the Missionary

Gian Carlo Menotti writes operas but not for opera houses. But because his casts are small, and producing his works in less costly than an opera like "La Forza del Destino," companies on limited budgets and without artist resources do them under unfavorable conditions. That's why the composer tries to stage them himself, whenever possible.

This is the first time the S.F. Opera Company has ever done a Menotti opera, bringing the composer here for rehearsals with a new cast singing in English. Seymour Schwartzmann, who'll sing the lead role, has just sung it in Hebrew in Israel. Having been a cantor, he only changed the pronunciation to Sarfidic and complimented the composer for allowing the singers to change certain note values to suit the rhythm of the language. He admitted it was a very emotionally charged producton, with an audience largely of soldiers who were admitted free of charge.

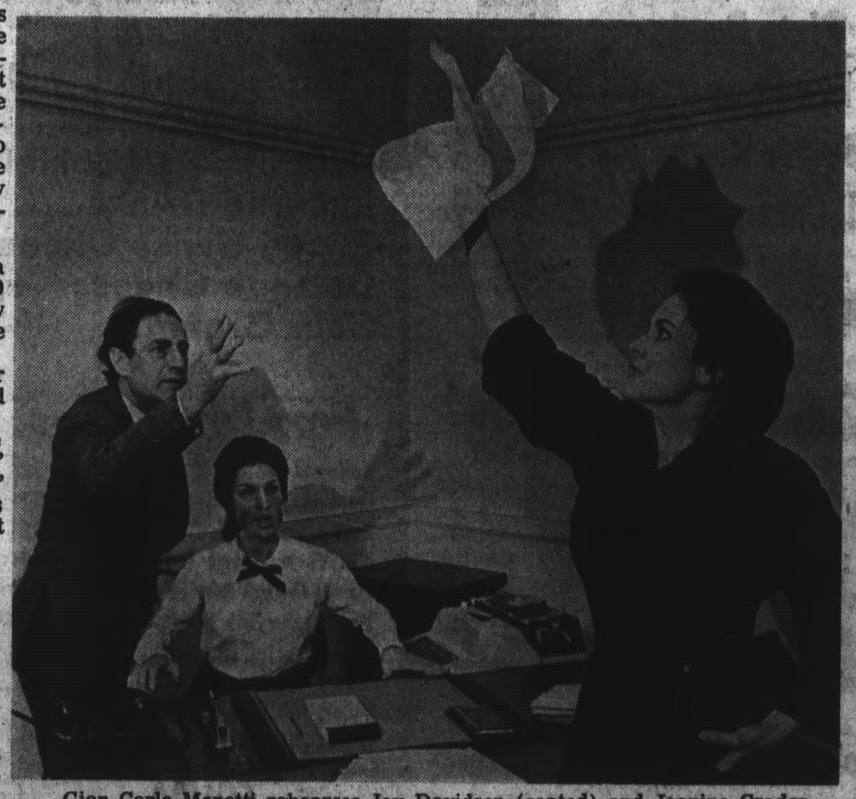
MENOTTI HAS LONG BEEN CONSIDERED a modernist, but people forget that "The Consul" is 19 years old now and Menotti claims, "My plays now seem antiquated next to my friend Eugene Ionesco. He is the greatest threatical genius of this generation."

"I don't feel an artist should run after the younger generation. I'm almost 60 now (he looks about 47) and am still working on my earlier works."

He was referring to "Help, Help, the Gobolinks Are Coming," written last year; "The Last Savage" (1964); "Maria Golovin" (1958); "Martin's Lie" (1965), and a television version of "Labyrinth." His latest work, also unpublished, is "The Most Important Man in the World."

"I am against big opera houses, and being blackmailed by singers with big voices. There are some extraordinary American singers in Germany who can't perform in the Metropolitan Opera House. And singers tell me when they sing my opera, they're not as concerned with voice projection as much as with their facial expressions being seen."

Menotti staged "The Consul" in its Broadway premiere, noting that 2,000 performances later, 3,000 for his "Medium" and as many as 10,000 for "Amahl and the Night Visitors" is an extraordinary record for any opera.



Gian Carlo Menotti rehearses Joy Davidson (seated) and Jeanine Crader (Right) in the S.F. Opera Company's first production of Menotti's "The Consul," premiering tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Opera House.

'See' Trip to Santa Rosa: Visit Burbank Gardens

Each year the city of Santa Rosa pays tribute to the man who accomplished feats of horticulture wizardry, Luther Burbank, with the Luther Burbank Rose Festival.

The Luther Burbank Memorial Gardens are between Tupper and Charles streets, says the California State Automobile Association. They are a tribute to his devotion to beautifying the world around him. The main entrance is on Santa Rosa Street and every path through the gardens leads to some object symbolic of Burbank and the materials with which he worked. The world famous Shasta Daisy was developed here as were 250 varieties of fruits, including 113 types of prunes and plums.

The inner Garden has a planting area shaped like a three-cornered star. In the middle of the star is a large copper lotus flower, with a sun dial at its center.

Visitors to the garden, located less than an hour's drive up U.S. Highway 101 north of San Francisco, will find the famous spineless cactus, plum and prune trees, daisies, lillies, mulberry trees and the huge Burbank Paradox walnut tree, famous for its fast growth and hard wood.

The master horticulturist is buried at the foot of a huge twin-spired cedar of Lebanon in an unmarked grave. The cedar was planted by Burbank as a seed more than 75 years ago.

The gardens were an outdoor laboratory for Burbank for more than 40 years where he produced 90 other varieties of beans, chives, corn, peas, peppers, rhubarb, tomatoes and squash. The plants found in the garden represent only a fraction of his work. At the time of his death, Burbank was working on more than 3,000 varieties of plants.

A short stroll across Santa Rosa Street is beautiful Juilliard Park with its chain of graduated ponds, a grove of magnolia trees, rose garden and picnic grounds. Also in the park is the famous Baptist Church, constructed in 1875 from a single giant redwood tree which grew in nearby Guerneville.

If you still have some time left before starting for home, an exciting trip is along McDonald Avenue where there are nine blocks of beautifully kept 19th Century homes.

Daly City Woman Hits 'Closed Meet'

A Daly City woman June 3 questioned the legality of a "closed meeting" held last month by Jefferson Elementary School District trustees, and demanded a "clarification of what went on behind closed doors" prior to the May 20 board meeting at Benjamin Franklin School.

Mrs. Beverly Forrester, a district parent, stated she felt the pre-meeting session involving Superintendent Frank Greenwood and three members of the board was a violation of the Brown Act, a state law prohibiting elected officials from deciding public issues in private, except under special circumstances.

Violation of the Brown Act constitutes a misdemeanor.

Greenwood said he has consulted with representatives from the district attorney's office regarding the incident, nad has been assured "no violation of the law occured."

"Elected officials may meet in private for informational purposes, provided no official action results from the proceedings, and no decisions are reached," according to the superintendent.

"The fact that three board members came together is not a violation of the Brown Act if no agreements are reached," he said.

Greenwood said he asked board members to stop by an administration office at the school prior to the May 20 meeting "to bring them up to date on the status of teacher contract negotiations."

This was not an executive session," the superintendent stated.

However, Mrs. Forrester noted that letters sent to board members notifying them of the pre-meeting session stated it would be an "executive session," and executive sessions must be posted in advance, according to the law.

"This wording in the letter was in error," the superintendent said. "It was not an executive session."

Mrs. Forrester also questioned why Trustee George Perry was not present at the gathering.

"Perry has not attended a board meeting in several months," board members pointed out.

Mrs. Forrester said Perry stated to her that he was not informed of the meeting.

Board Chirman Ed Tomasello and Trustees Frank Monte and William Schumacher were present at the gathering, according to Greenwood.

Tomasello suggested that Mrs. Forrester "take the matter to the district attorney" if she felt a violation of the law had occurred.

S.S.F. Salary Meet Asked With Schools

Members of the South San Francisco Unified School Districts teacher negotiating council hoped for a special "meet and confer" session with the board of trustees Monday, in an attempt to resolve a conflict over delays in contract negotiations.

District California Teachers Association President Robert Damico said his organization will seek an early committment on teacher pay raises from the board, "in order to avoid the necessity of invoking Bay Area sanctions against the district."

The district CTA representative council voted June 2 to impose local sanctions against the district, and left open the possibility of calling for regional and national sanctions if their demands for an early conclusion of contract negotiations are to meet.

The teacher sanctions have the effect of warning prospective district employes of "undesirable conditions," according to CTA spokesmen.

The teacher groups are unhappy over the district's failure to indicate any pay increases in the preliminary budget now under consideration, and the likelihood that contract negotiations will run well into the summer.

According to Damico, the negotiations were not concluded until July last year, and teachers were forced to leave school in the spring with no knowledge of what their pay would be during the coming year.

Damico said the district has not indicated a teacher pay increase in its preliminary budget in the past three years.

District Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen and members of the board of trustees have indicated they need further information on prospective state allocations to the district before determining salary levels.

They have also expressed the opinion that either program cuts are a tax rate increase or both may be necessary to provide pay increases.

Dr. Nielsen termed the sanctions invocation "a blatant pressure tactic to attempt to force the board of trustees to make a committment before they know what monies are available."

Music Award To a Young Coast Pianist

dents of Millbrae shared second place honors in the competition. Ted Swan of San Mateo, flute student of Owen James at the Peninsula Conservatory received a partial scholarship along with Gary Norris, a sophomore at Mills High School, and Gail Benedict, a junior at Capuchino. Gary studies trumpet with Victor Kress, and Gail studies violin under the direction of Effie Keldsen.

The large number of performer-applicants for the conservatory scholarship, together with the high calibre of their performances, made it a difficult task for the judges to select the winners, which testified to the very successful school year at the conservatory.

Yank Logger Permits, Says CGF Panel

The Committee for Green Foothills yesterday asked the County Board of Supervisors to withdraw two logging permits granted May 28 by the County Planning Commission.

The conservation group filed an appeal from the permit approved by the commission for Alan Hosking to log in the Devil's Cnayon area west of Skyline Boulevard near Portola State Park.

CGF also joined the Skylonda-Skywood Committe in an appeal filed last week against a permit granted the Bayside Timber Company to log in the area west of Skyline and north of La Honda Road.

Representatives of CGF and other conservation groups argued long and hard against the permits at the May 28 hearing.

Mrs. Pat Barrantine, executive secretary of CGF, said the appeal is "based on growing concern for the protection of the scenic and recreational values along Skyline Boulevard."

"Both permits allow logging within view of the Skyline," Mrs. Barrantine said," and the Devil's Canyon permit allows logging within the scenic corridor itself on a limited basis."

Westmoor Teacher Retiring After 40 Years in Education

After 40 years of outstanding work in education, Miss Evelyn Slater, presently an English teacher at Westmoor High School, is retiring.

Miss Slater began her California teaching career in the Jefferson Elementary District at Colma in 1953 teaching the eighth grade; she then went to the Jefferson Union High School in 1955.

When Westmoor opened in the fall of 1956, Miss Slater was in the English department both as a teacher and department head. She acted as head of the English department for eight years.

Educated at the University of Chicago, she received her bachelors' degree, then went on the way to receive her masters at Columbia University in the field of English.

She began her teaching career in October 1928 in the Chicago public school system. While there she served as the president of the English Club of Greater Chicago where she hand an opportunity to meet writers.

2 Men Hold Up S. Bruno Gas Station

Two men in their late twenties, one armed with a 12-gauge, double-barreled shotgun, held up the Tanforan Shell Station in San Bruno on June 3 and escaped with $101.

San Bruno police said one of the suspects nudged Charles W. Himenes, 22, with the shotgun, to show the attendant he meant business.

The authorities said Himenes was working on a car in the garage area of the station, located at 1199 El Camino Real, when the two men entered the station.

One suspect—the man with the shotugn—described as 5-11, 25 to 28 years old, 180 pounds, with a pock-marked face, did all the talking, Himenes told police.

"This is a holdup," the man said, "Put your hands up. I want all your money."

The attendant led them towards the pumps.

The bandit jabbed Himenes in the left side with the shotgun barrel, explaining it was to indicate that the suspect "meant business."

Himenes was directed to empty both cash boxes. They contained a toal of some $101, police said.

With the money in their possession the two men forced Himenes to crawl beneath a box trailer parked adjacent to the service station. Then they got into a yellow, 1957-model car, described by the attendant as in "poor condition," and fled south on El Camino Real.

Road blocks were put up by police shortly after 11:35 p.m., but the suspects were not seen again.

Jeff Elementary Board Approves Teacher Pact

Teachers in Daly City's Jefferson Elementary School District will depart this summer with certain knowledge of the provisions in their contract for the coming year for the first time in anybody's memory.

The board of trustees approved a contract providing a four per cent salary increase and increased health insurance benefits June 3 after "the smoothest negotiations in several years."

The salary and benefits package, agreed to by the teachers' negotiating council and recommended by Supt. Frank Greenwood, was adopted by a unanimous vote of the board members, who praised the teachers and the superintendent for their "mutual cooperation and reasonableness" in agreeing to terms of the contract.

The new contract contains a provision which guarantees that 75 per cent of all additional state aid in excess of $150,000 received by the district next year will go toward further salary and benefit increases for certified and classified personnel.

In addition to the four per cent pay increase, teachers will receive an additional district contribution to health plans totalling $4.42 per month per teacher.

Greenwood said the modest pay raise will be financed through additional state contributions to the district and an expected five per cent increase in assessed property valuations in the district this year.

"This contract will not necessitate any curtailment in services," the superintendent said.

He said the district library and music programs will be maintained at their present level next year.

A proposed "drastic reduction" in transportation service provided by the district is still pending, and will be studied further before final recommendations are made, he said.

The new teacher salary schedule ranges from $6,630 to $13,260.
